Four Billion Dollar Budget Is Submitted To Congress

PRESIDENT SAYS WILL BE SURPLUS

Coolidge In Message to Congress Springs Big Surprise In Reports

NO TAX REDUCTION

Total Receipts for Fiscal Year Below Those of The Preceding Year

By CECIL OWENS
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—President Coolidge today submitted to congress the budget for the fiscal year 1930, totaling $4,473,799,004, as compared with $4,328,028,236 in the 1929 appropriation. In his message the president revealed that the government, upon closing the books next June at the end of the fiscal year, will have a surplus of $36,990,192, but warned that "we have no immediate prospect of any immediate reduction in taxes." The predicted surplus caused surprise, as Budget Director Lord had said in July that there would be a $94,000,000 deficit unless government expenses were curtailed. Total receipts of the government in the fiscal year 1929 were estimated by President Coolidge at $3,831,735,661 as compared with receipts in the fiscal year 1928 of $4,042,348,156. Expenditures for 1929 were put at $3,794,745,469 as compared with expenditures last year of $3,643,519,875. The surplus for the fiscal year 1928, which closed June 30, was $398,828,281, which was $55,000,000 less than the estimated surplus. Taking into consideration the $50,000,000 appropriated by congress subsequent to the transmission of the budget and settlement of war claims, the president said the difference between the estimated and actual surplus in 1928 was but $50,000,000. "For this current year, 1929, the outlook is not so bright," he continued, explaining that the forecast in 1927 of a surplus of $252,540,283 for the fiscal year 1929 has been materially changed. "With actual operations for four months of the current year of record and a clearer understanding of what we are considering, the estimate is now that our surplus is $36,990,192. While this margin of receipts over expenditures is small, it is most

Prices were generally higher than in 1927, and consumer's buying power dropped off slightly. An upward trend to

L. A. Gives $15,000 To Fresno Widow In Dam Disaster

FRESNO, Dec. 5.—(UP)—The second Fresno woman, widowed by the St. Francis dam disaster of March 13, reached a settlement with the city of Los Angeles today, when a superior court order was signed permitting Mrs. Olive G. Thomas, mother of four children, to compromise the claim for the death of her husband on the basis of $15,000. The first settlement was with Mrs. Nora McDougall for $15,000 on behalf of herself and three children. Thomas and McDougall were employees of the Southern California Edison company, whose construction camp was wiped out by the flood.

SO IT'S LOS ANGELES WHERE ALL THESE MINORS MARRY!

When a suit for the annulment of the marriage of Lucile Lipe was filed here today, County Clerk J. M. Backs knew instinctively that she had been married in Los Angeles. "I have not read the complaint in this case but from looking at it I deduce the girl was married in Los Angeles," the county clerk said. Court attaches could hardly believe their eyes when they read the complaint and saw that Backs was right. They wanted to know how he guessed it. The complainant's looks led me to believe the girl was under age," Backs explained. "I therefore deduced she was seeking an annulment. During my years as county clerk I have learned that the majority of couples who marry under age and then seek annulment

Delaware Republican Sends Resignation to Vice President Dawes

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Sen. T. Coleman DuPont, Republican, Delaware, who has been unable to attend senate sessions for more than a year because of ill health, has sent a letter of resignation to Vice President Dawes.

The letter was received by Dawes today from a special messenger from Delaware. DuPont stated his health would not permit him to continue his office.

Dawes said he did not know what procedure should be followed but he intended to read it to the senate and have it referred to the proper committee for action.

Cases of resignation in the senate have been unusual, the latest being that of the late President Harding who was nominated for the presidency while he was a senator from Ohio. Vice President elect Charles Curtis, now a senator from Kansas, is expected to present his resignation shortly after Jan. 1.

The resignation usually is presented first to the governor of the state who submits it to the senate as a matter of course, the senator being primarily an officer of the state.

were not married in Santa Ana." Court attaches were familiar with the large number of young couples who come from Los Angeles seeking licenses. They also recalled that Backs has refused to issue licenses many times to romantic couples of such tender years coming from the great big town. Turning back to the complaint they noted that Lucile Lipe is alleged to have married Millard Lipe in Los Angeles when she was too young to secure a license even with her parents' consent. Her age was given as 15 years and 11 months. The complaint stated, furthermore, that the girl did not even have her parents' consent when she was married. The suit was filed by Mamie Hendrie, the girl's mother.

COUNTY BOARD ON PLANNING TO BE ASKED

Lions Club Will Petition Supervisors to Name Commission Soon

COSTA MESA, Dec. 5.—A resolution asking county supervisors to name a county planning commission will be drafted this week by a special committee of the local Lions club and will be adopted at the regular meeting of the club next week. The resolution was ordered drawn yesterday at a meeting of the club following a talk by George Reid, secretary of the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce, on "planning." That cities in Orange county have done much in city planning and that it now rests with the county to continue a comprehensive planning scheme started by the various towns, was the declaration of Reid. He stated that traffic problems of the county alone forced a need of planning. Reid cited the Manchester and Century boulevard projects connecting Orange county with Los Angeles. He also referred to the development of a major highway connecting Anaheim and Fullerton and other northern points with Costa Mesa and the harbor district. The need of major highway systems to speed up transportation was stressed by the speaker. He told of roads in the east which had been laid out on the plan of "the shortest distance between two points is a straight line." W. W. Middleton was chairman of the program committee for the day. Dr. C. G. Huston was in the chair. Earl Patterson, captain of the purple team which lost a recent attendance campaign announced that the purple team was paying for the luncheon of gold team members yesterday. An announcement was made by Dr. Huston regarding a joint meeting between the Lions club and the Newport Beach Exchange club on December 26. Christmas falls on a Tuesday which is the Lions club meeting day and it is expected that a joint meeting will be arranged between the two clubs on the Exchange club meeting day.

JAIME DEL RIO IN CRITICAL CONDITION

BERLIN, Dec. 5.—(INS)—Physicians attending Jaime Del Rio, young Mexican aristocrat and former husband of Dolores Del Rio, film star, today stated that he was "somewhat weaker" but without pain. Del Rio suffered blood poisoning and paralysis after an operation for a carbuncle and is now in a critical condition. He is expected to move into the fingers of one hand. His temperature is extremely high. Friends stated that he was much cheered by a cable received from his former wife and read to him in a lucid moment. "Fight hard, Jaime, fight hard," it said. "Tell her I'm fighting," Del Rio is reported to have said before lapsing into unconsciousness.

Says $300,000,000 Needed To Enforce U. S. Booze Laws

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(INS)—It would cost the federal government $300,000,000 a year and require a vast extension of the federal court system for the enforcement of prohibition enforcement, Prohibition Commissioner J. M. Doran testified before the house appropriations committee. It was disclosed in hearings made public today.

The present appropriation, Doran said, is used mainly in combating the "big fellows" with local enforcement being largely left to local agencies.

Fine Welcome Given Party By Big Crowd

Mayor of Lima on Hand as Maryland Docks—Parade 12 Miles Long

By THOMAS L. STOKES
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
LIMA, Peru, Dec. 5.—(UP)—President-elect Herbert Hoover landed in Peru today, the largest country he has yet visited in his Latin American tour. The U. S. S. Maryland, carrying the Hoover party, dropped anchor in Callao harbor at 7:15 a. m. and Foreign Minister Adolfo Gamio, the American ambassador, Alexander P. Moore and the American naval mission to Peru, headed by Rear-Admiral A. G. Howe, went aboard the Maryland to welcome the visiting statesman. Mayor Carlos Roe of Callao welcomed the party as it landed at the docks. A large crowd enthusiastically cheered the American president-elect as he entered an automobile to drive to Lima, the capital, for the official welcome by President Augusto B. Leguia of Peru.

As the Maryland dropped anchor in the harbor, she exchanged the national salute of 21 guns with the Peruvian warship Almirante Grau, which has escorted the Maryland since Peruvian waters were reached.

The Peruvian cruiser Bolones I joined the Maryland outside the harbor.

When the firing of the salute had finished, scores of small boats put out from the shore and surrounded the Maryland.

Ambassador Moore in welcoming Mr. Hoover on board the Maryland said: "Mr. Hoover, you are now among friends. The people of Peru have similar aims and ambitions to those of the people of the United States."

Foreign Minister Rada Y Gamio in extending a welcome on behalf of the president-elect was an event in the epochal history of the United States and Peru and in the pages of continental fraternity.

Troops and police were scattered along the 8-mile Avenida Progreso leading to Lima and kept the cheering crowds back as the procession of automobiles passed. Banners of "Welcome Hoover," "Viva Hoover," "Viva the United States," "Viva Peru," "Viva Leguia" were strung along the route.

The party found typical foggy weather at Callao, but the weather cleared during the trip to the capital.

CRIMINAL SHOT TO DEATH IN N. Y. COURT

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—(UP)—Sidney "Whitey" Weiss, a fourth offender, was shot to death today by Capt. John Doyle, chief of the criminal courts attendants, after Weiss had wounded one attendant and hit another over the head with a revolver.

He had just been sentenced to life imprisonment at Sing Sing prison. He drew a pistol as he was being led to the tombs and wounded the court attendant. A moment later Captain Doyle killed Weiss.

"BAD BOY" MAYOR IS WINNER IN NEWBURYPORT CITY VOTE

NEWBURYPORT, Mass., Dec. 5.—(UP)—Voters of Newburyport have placed an unequivocal stamp of approval on the extraordinary administration on Mayor "Bossy" Gillis.

The red head, who was released from Salem jail only last Saturday, scored a great personal triumph in yesterday's municipal election when his entire slate of councilmen won.

"Bossy" himself was not a candidate, his term having another year to run. But his political fate was at stake because of the necessity for him to control the city council in order to put through all his drastic measures. Six councilmen were elected and every one is a Gillis man. It was reported reliably that the first business of the new council would be to consider the municipal zoning law which has prevented "Bossy" from legally operating a gasoline filling station at State and High streets in the residential section.

The mayor expects the council to repeal the zoning law and thus enable him to reopen the filling station the operation of which without a permit got him into jail.

BRITTEN HOPES FOR MEETING OF WORLD POWERS TO LIMIT ARMS BEFORE AUGUST 1929

By JOSEPH S. WASNEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(UP)—Chairman Britten of the house naval committee has hopes for a conference of American and foreign legislators on disarmament, if the great world powers before next August do not summon a new arms limitation session.

With his own committee on record in favor of extending the 5-5-3 naval ratio policy to other than major battle craft, Britten today revealed to the United Press his dream of a gathering of legislators from the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan in conjunction with the interparliamentary union session in Geneva next August. He desires to see such a conference of union delegates in event the powers themselves do not move for another arms reduction session meantime.

Britten was cheered by the friendly tone of Premier Baldwin's response to the Britten suggestion for a U. S. English parliamentary gathering. While Baldwin did not accept the suggestion—since it was made over the heads of American diplomats and contrary to established customs in such cases—he did indicate he was appreciative of Britten's spirit.

Meantime, American diplomatic sources had condemned Britten's tour into the realms of diplomacy, but his own committee indicated that without wanting to dictate to any officials it still favors, as heretofore, an extension of the principles applied to the Washington arms conference.

Britten told the United Press he would not agitate, for the present, his proposal for a limitations conference between the United States and Great Britain, adding "it is now up to the other fellow."

He said members of the English parliament have manifested a great interest in the proposal and that the seed for perpetual peace had been sown.

KING GEORGE MUCH BETTER REPORTS SAY

Afternoon Bulletin Shows His Majesty Is Making Good Progress

By KEITH JONES
United Press Staff Correspondent
LONDON, Dec. 5.—King George L apparently was making favorable progress in his illness today. Lord Dawson of Penn, his physician, visited him this afternoon but seemingly was satisfied with his condition and did not issue an afternoon bulletin. It was said on good authority that the king's condition was unchanged.

Earlier, Lord Dawson and his colleague, Sir Stanley Hewett, issued a bulletin which said the king had passed a fair night and that "a recrudescence of the infection which caused the last rise in temperature is being moderated."

Another favorable sign that no immediate crisis in the king's illness was feared was seen when the queen and Princess Mary left Buckingham palace for an automobile ride at 3 p. m.

Word was received that the Prince of Wales, hurrying home from Africa on the cruiser Enterprise, had halted briefly at Aden today and resumed his voyage to Suez, which he was expected to reach at 9 p. m. Friday.

The Duke of Gloucester, his brother, also returning from Africa, reached Bulawayo last night and continued to Cape Hope, where he expects to make Friday's mail steamer for England.

POSTPONE ACTION ON KELLOGG TREATY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(UP)—The senate foreign relations committee today postponed consideration of the Kellogg multi-lateral treaty until Friday, when the secretary of state will be asked to explain the pact.

The committee merely discussed outstanding features of the pact at today's meeting without making any decisions, members said. It probably will decide at Friday's meeting whether to conduct hearings on the treaty or proceed to the drafting of a report without public sessions.

TWO IONE INMATES CRUSHED TO DEATH

IONE, Calif., Dec. 5.—(UP)—Two boys were crushed to death and four others received minor injuries when a sewer ditch they were excavating caved in at the Preston School of Industry here late yesterday.

The dead are: William Reppert, 20, sentenced to the institution from San Francisco, and Henry Hirstein, 18, recently sent to the school from Sanger.

The boys were trapped in the 12-foot ditch when the earth gave way while they were working, burying the six youths underneath. Four of the boys were removed within a few minutes suffering only slight injuries, but several hours were required to reach the bodies of Reppert and Hirstein.

MAN DEAD, WIFE HURT IN CAR CRASH

YUMA, Ariz., Dec. 5.—(UP)—One man was dead and his wife was in a critical condition at a hospital here today following a collision between a Pickwick stage and an automobile, three miles east of Mohawk yesterday.

L. K. Williams, 40, believed to be from Evansville, Ind., was killed instantly. Mrs. Williams is suffering from body and head injuries that may result in her death.

The Williams' were touring the southwest when the accident occurred.

HOT BATTLE IS EXPECTED ON MEASURE

Senator Johnson Declares He Will Fight to Keep It Before Upper House

OPPOSANTS HOSTILE

No Opportunity Permitted For Discussion Today But Starts Thursday

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(UP)—The senate killed the house Boulder dam bill today by unanimous consent and substituted for it the Johnson bill which was drawn by the senate commerce committee.

The substitution was requested by Senator Hiram Johnson of California, originator of the legislation and was permitted by opponents of the bill.

They agreed that the senate bill was better than the house bill, and that therefore the house bill should be killed.

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—The same bitterness which caused two successful filibusters against the Boulder dam bill was manifest in the senate today as Senator Hiram Johnson of California again brought his measure up for consideration.

Threats were freely, though privately, made by opponents of the measure that they soon would sidetrack it by displacing it with the naval cruiser building bill or by pigeon-holing it in the senate commerce committee.

Johnson announced he would fight to preserve the advanced position of the measure as the unfinished business, that he would not willingly consent to let it be sent to committee for revision and that he intended to do any necessary revising by introducing amendments from the floor.

The senator's plight generally is viewed as serious because of the recent report of engineers who studied the project during the summer and the attitude expressed in President Coolidge's message to congress that electrical power development should be left to private enterprise. Johnson has seen the president and has announced his belief Mr. Coolidge will sign the bill containing its optional clause to let the secretary of interior determine whether the gov-

Convict Has 3 Hours Of Liberty

SAN QUENTIN, Dec. 5.—(INS)—Three hours of liberty was granted Vladimir Prusynski, 39, Los Angeles rancher, got as far as the prison wharf, located a few hundred feet from the gates of San Quentin.

So Prusynski is in solitary confinement today, awaiting a quiz by Warden Holohan, as to how he eluded guards at lock-up time and apparently walked boldly out of the prison.

Three hours after he was found missing, the prisoner was discovered hiding under the prison wharf. He submitted to capture without resistance.

Prusynski was received at San Quentin last September from Los Angeles to serve a term of 10 years for robbery.

BUSINESS FOR YEAR AMOUNTS TO $9,517,515

ORANGE, Dec. 5.—Returns of citrus fruits handled through the Orange County Fruit exchange during the month of November reached the sum of $969,688.59, it was announced here today by L. D. Palmer, manager of the exchange.

This amount will apply on the business for 1929, as the exchange season was closed November 1.

While shipments during the month were much lighter than they were during the month of November, 1927, the returns were only slightly under those of last year, which totaled $1,200,787.17.

With the shipment of 3450 cars in 1928, total sales made through the exchange this year reached $9,517,515.94, in comparison with $9,758,240.59 for 1927, when 4700 cars were shipped.

The lot is on the east side of Main street, between First and Second, and adjoins on the north the property occupied by the Towner Manufacturing company.

Dr. Horton said that plans for improvement of the lot are under consideration, but that they had not developed sufficiently to justify announcement at this time.

FLU SITUATION IS GREATLY IMPROVED

Definite improvement in the influenza situation throughout Orange county was seen today with the report of Dr. K. H. Sutherland, county health officer, that only 69 cases of the malady had been reported to his office during the last 24 hours.

In Santa Ana 42 cases were reported. Fullerton reported 20, Tustin two and Anaheim five.

Today's report is one of the smallest which has been turned in.

ward the end of the fiscal year was noted, with indications of further increase in activity ahead. Agriculture and building were the two industries described as increasing their business over the preceding year. Building contracts awarded totaled 24 per cent more in value than during the prior year.

"Agriculture as a whole," the report said, "made substantial gains. There was an increase both in prices and in total cash returns for the crops and products of the year 1927-28 as compared with those of the year 1926-27, this increase representing the net result of gains in some products and losses in others."

Taking up the business situation in the past fiscal year in detail, Mellon pointed out that the physical volume of industrial production, according to recognized indexes, was 2 per cent below the prior year. Measured by car loadings of freight there was a 5 per cent decline, but nearly four-fifths of this loss was in the combined loadings of coal and ore, he said.

"Automobile production," he added, "experienced a major turn for the better during the year. Monthly figures after adjustment for seasonal tendencies indicate that the general decline which began in November, 1925, reached its lowest point in November and December, 1927. The year ended with June-July production nearly 85 per cent above June-July, 1927, although the total for the twelve months was 12 per cent below the prior year."

Steel production, the report said, followed much the same course as automobile production, and the total for the year was but 5 per cent below 1927 production. New high records were established in building contracts awarded in the months of October, February, April, May and June.

Under the heading of "Business Profits," Mellon said:

"The decline of business during the fiscal year is reflected in the earnings of manufacturing and mining companies, the net income shown in the published reports of 150 identical corporations (exclusive of General Motors and United States Steel) declining about 7 per cent as compared with the prior year."

DOMINATION BY AMERICA SEEN IN TOY MAKING

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(UP)—An American note will dominate the toys on sale during the Christmas season this year, the National Geographic society reports.

Exhibits of toys by old world designers at the recent Leipzig fair showed an amazing number of devices with a strong American influence.

Numerous toy automobiles in American styles, and copies of various American mechanical devices featured the toy fair. Many familiar figures from the comic strips were recognized by Americans attending the exhibition.

"The newest mechanical animals seem more life-like than ever before," says the Geographic. "The mechanical lion, for example, retreats, crouches, and then springs forward, roaring. The peacock proudly struts about extending and closing his tail. Mechanical fish swim with an undulating motion."

"Doll designing has become a fine art, and excellent talent, including famous sculptors, is engaged in this work. The most novel of the new dolls is the 'synthetic' type. Various parts are detachable and may be substituted by parts of a different color or shape—heads, arms, legs, wings, etc. Doll wardrobes are of bewildering variety, including complete outfits for morning wear, the street, evening wear, and night wear."

"Much space at the toy fair was taken up with ornaments for Christmas trees. Many of the ornaments are factory made, but the familiar colored balls and tinsel designs are made for the most part in the kitchens of German farm houses. The handicraft, like wood-carving, has been handed down from generation to generation, and the workers are singularly expert."

"Toys of some sort have been shown at the Leipzig fair through out the 700 years of its existence. This year, for the first time, American toys were exhibited."

Famed Distiller Also Teetotaler

PARIS, Dec. 5.—Jean Hennessy, world famous distiller of brandy and cognac, is a teetotaler. He is the new minister of agriculture in the Poincare cabinet.

The man, whose family name was famous before Foch, Clemenceau, Joffre or Pétain were heard of, has been a deputy since 1910. He is an expert in questions of political economy and was one of the French delegates to the League of Nations in 1922. He is a sportsman and owner of a large racing stable.

1929 BUDGET IS SUBMITTED TO CONGRESS

gratifying, as on July 1 last, the best estimate that could be made indicated a deficit of about $94,000,000.

"The surplus now estimated is based on receipts amounting to $3,831,735,661 and expenditures of $3,794,745,469. The difference between estimates of a year ago and this estimate is principally reflected in expenditure figures which have increased $238,000,000."

The postal deficit, Coolidge said, accounted for $68,000,000 of the estimated increase in expenditures. Included in that amount is about $9,000,000 overtime pay for postal employees, another $9,000,000 for carrying ocean and air mail, $14,000,000 included in railroad tax rates and a $36,000,000 reduction in postal revenue.

Expenditures for flood control accounted for $16,000,000. Public buildings under construction and roads to be built accounted for $26,000,000. Increases raise expenditures by $11,000,000 and increases in pay of government employees account for $21,000,000.

Tax refunds show an estimated increase of $18,000,000 and interest payments of $5,000,000, while the navy and ship building expenditures, the president said, accounted for $26,000,000. These were cited as major items which resulted in increased government spending this year.

For the fiscal year, 1930, beginning July 1 next, President Coolidge forecast a surplus of $60,576,182. Though the surplus margin for both the current and the next year is small, he said it is satisfying, as it points to a balanced budget.

"It is clear," he warned, "that we cannot assume any great additional expenditures without jeopardizing the favorable outlook. We are committed to a balanced budget and that carries the assurance that the only revision of tax laws which will be considered is downward."

"We have no immediate prospect of any immediate reduction in the tax rate but have no thought of curtailing in any way the benefits which have gone to the people in taxes."

The president referred to the $406,566,762.42 French war debt to the United States which matures on August 1, 1929, but said this was not included in the budget because of the possibility that it may be funded by ratification of the Herengr debt settlement agreement. This spreads the payment over a 62-year period and reduces the interest rates. Though the French government has so far failed to ratify it, it is still expected that it may be approved before August, when the bonds mature. Mr. Coolidge recommended to congress that if France ratifies the agreement, this country do likewise.

KELLOGG IS IRATE OVER BRIAND NOTE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(UP)—Secretary of State Kellogg today denied the statement attributed to Foreign Minister Briand of France that Hugh Gibson, U. S. ambassador to Belgium, was responsible for the Franco-British naval agreement rejected by the United States.

Kellogg said Gibson had not suggested that France and Britain enter into the agreement and the state department had known nothing of it until it was mentioned in the house of commons by Chamberlain some months ago.

LEADER OF IRISH IS AUTOMOBILE VICTIM

DUBLIN, Dec. 5.—(UP)—Henry Dixon, 62, one of the founders of the Sinn Fein organization in the Irish Free State, was killed by an automobile as he was leaving the office of his friend, the late President Griffiths yesterday.

Dixon, who was a co-worker with Griffiths in the Sinn Fein movement, was imprisoned several times after the Irish rebellion of 1916.

BOULDER DAM BILL BEFORE SENATE TODAY

ernment should build, or lease the power site before building.

His opponents, the Utah and Arizona senators, Smoot, King, Ashurst and Hayden, believe the engineers' report will make it necessary to send the bill back to committee for revision. Smoot says he does not believe the president would sign the measure if it is passed. They are organizing all their forces to prevent adoption of the measure by every available means.

Smoot has been negotiating with senators from Wyoming and Colorado in an effort to get them to withdraw from the state compact for division of waters. He contends the engineers' report shows the compact is drawn incorrectly. They indicated they could take care of their interests by proposing a series of amendments to the pending bill.

Johnson's first step will be a motion to substitute the bill as passed by the house last session.

OKLAHOMA WILDCAT FLOWS 5000 BARRELS

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Dec. 5.—(UP)—Construction of additional storage tanks was started today at the Indian Territory Illuminating Oil company's wildcat gusher six miles southeast of here as the well continued flowing from 200 to 210 barrels of crude oil hourly after its "blowing in" late yesterday.

Two 1000 barrel tanks were filled during the night and a third was rapidly filling early today. The gravity of the crude is 40, it was said, and worth $1.55 a barrel on the current price schedule.

At its present production, around 5000 barrels daily, the well is yielding $7800 in oil every 24 hours.

Deaths

A WORD OF COMFORT
Many suffering souls fall God and themselves through overlooking their own sin. They risk indulging their grief by weak surrender to the impulse to evade responsibility for routine tasks and for the care of others because their hearts ache.

They think "it does not matter" and fail to "stand up to their job" on the assumption that their individual influence is greater than yours, nor can be substituted for yours. You must not fall him.

CASTELLO—In Santa Ana, December 4, William Castello, age 27 years. He is survived by his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Castello; four brothers, Frank Castello Jr., of Tustin, and Manuel, Mike and Crespin Castello, of Santa Ana; and one sister, Josephine Castello, of Santa Ana. Arrangements for funeral services to be held in the home, 1235 West Fourth street, under the direction of Harrell and Brown, will be announced later.

How to Strengthen Any Stomach

POSSIBLY that sour condition of your stomach is due to an over-stimulation of the gastric acid. A sour stomach isn't pleasant; and it isn't easy to excuse, when there is so simple a way to remedy it. To neutralize the harmful acid and put your stomach in good order take a little "Pape's Diapiesin"; after meals, or whenever the need is felt.

This fine remedy removes the cause of the trouble and promotes normal, healthy digestion. "Pape's Diapiesin" is sold by all druggists at 50 cents a package, and is the remedy which is recommended by millions because it gives immediate relief in all cases of difficult and painful digestion.

So, just be sure you provide yourself with "Pape's Diapiesin" today, so that stomach pain and digestive troubles need never worry you again. A sour stomach causes you discomfort. This form of relief has helped many who thought their disorders could not be helped.

CLAIM PRICE ON SECOND. BUSH LOTS TOO HIGH

Representing the Vaughn estate, Charles Wagner today quoted a price of $90,000 on the property at the northwest corner of Second and Bush streets, recommended yesterday by a committee as the best location for the federal building proposed for Santa Ana.

There are four lots in the place, having a frontage of 200 feet on Bush and 115 feet on Second street. In order to fill out the lot of the dimensions required by the government it would be necessary to acquire the 18 feet to the west, now used as an alley, and 17 feet more from properties occupied by the Cadillac garage, owned by the W. A. Huff estate; the Crystal Cleaning company and the G. P. Campbell Printing company, the latter owned by the Andre estate.

Acquisition of the additional property needed probably would cost a large amount of money and would increase the sum property owners in the vicinity would have to contribute to a fund for reducing the site cost to a figure approximating $50,000, it is pointed out.

W. A. Newman, engineer in charge of federal buildings for the U. S. treasury department, has indicated that $50,000 may be available from the appropriated building fund to apply on the purchase of a site. He emphasized, however, the fact that to take more than this amount from the appropriation would reduce the fund to a point where it might not be possible to erect the high class structure the department would like to build in Santa Ana.

In some quarters the belief has been expressed that the $90,000 quoted on the Vaughn property is too high in comparison with known sale prices on other lots in the same vicinity and facing on Bush street. The figure averages $450 a front foot on Bush street. The Bruner property, in the block between Third and Fourth and fronting on Bush street, is said to have been sold recently for $300 a front foot. The purchase, two years ago, by Herbert Miller of property directly across the street from the Vaughn holdings, at approximately

WALNUT PLANT IN ORANGE SHIPS 350 TONS IN YEAR

ORANGE, Dec. 5.—Approximately 350 tons of walnuts were shipped by the Richland Walnut association, this season, according to A. D. Smiley, manager of the association. The nuts brought a satisfactory price to growers in spite of the fact that the quality of the crop as a whole was poor, the manager stated, poor quality being due to lack of care of trees.

The present crop was but 50 per cent of that usually handled by the association and due to the lateness of the season, a second pool was formed, this being the second time an additional pool has been formed since 1919. A few tons of nuts in the second pool are yet in the warehouse but all have been sold. Shipments on these nuts will be made this week and returns are expected from them sometime before Christmas.

Owners of groves connected with the association have expressed their intention of caring for their trees next year in order to eliminate the moth and the aphids. Growers who cared for their trees during the present season were rewarded with fine crops, according to Smiley.

$250 a front foot also is cited in support of the contention that the quoted price of $90,000 is too high.

It was pointed out here today that, in the event the government should finally settle on this site, it could condemn the property through federal court action and pay what the court might decree to be its value.

It is known that a site on Bush street, between Sixth and Seventh, is receiving favorable consideration by Newman. While no formal offer has been submitted, assurance has been given by interested parties that a site of sufficient size can be obtained at a figure much smaller than that quoted on the Vaughn holdings.

THREE ARE JAILED ON THEFT CHARGES

Declared by police to be members of an organized gang of oil field crooks, Addler Whaley, 21; Herbert O. Root, 31, and William H. Cox, 31, all of Long Beach, were lodged in the county jail today on grand theft charges.

They are charged with stealing equipment from the Rex Oil company, in the Huntington Beach field, and selling it to a concern in Long Beach.

According to Chief of Police Stewart, of Huntington Beach, the men will have their preliminary hearings before Judge Chris Pan next Friday.

The new dainty shoe gloves, rubber house gloves and other rubber articles can be kept fresh and new by giving them a "bath" of talcum powder, when dry, after use.

CONDITION OF CRASH VICTIM IS UNCHANGED

The condition of F. H. Johnson, of 181 Center street, Orange, seriously injured yesterday morning when the truck he was driving was struck by a machine driven by Byron Dahl, of Anaheim, at the intersection of the Ball and Brookhurst roads, was reported unchanged today. He is in the Anaheim Community hospital.

Johnson suffered a possible fracture of the skull, three fractured ribs and a broken clavicle, according to word received here. Norman Wood, Orange, riding with Johnson at the time, was cut and bruised, but not seriously hurt.

Both men were employees of the McFadden Dale Hardware company here.

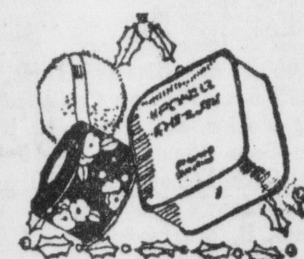

The intersection where the accident occurred has been the scene of several serious accidents recently. One man was killed there two weeks ago. Both roads are heavily used by traffic to and from Anaheim and lack of warning signals at the intersection has been blamed for several accidents occurring there.

Change Of Venue Granted Man Held On Booze Charges

A change of venue today was granted Tom and George Tungstall, Wintersburg men, charged with possession of liquor, in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court.

The case will be tried in the justice court in Huntington Beach, in which township the men were alleged to have committed the crime.

Deputy sheriffs arrested the Tungstall brothers several days ago, when a small amount of liquor was said to have been found in their home.

MAY HAVE TO READVERTISE FOR ROAD BIDS

Possibility that the board of supervisors will readvertise for bids on a $125,000 highway paving project at Dana Point was speculated on today following the discovery, on opening bids, yesterday, that the lowest bidder for the work had not signed his bid.

R. A. Watson, of Los Angeles, was low on this project with an estimate of $123,014.69. The matter was referred to District Attorney Z. B. West Jr., by the board for an opinion as to whether Watson's bid was disqualified. West said today that he has not yet returned his final opinion and that the matter has been continued to next Tuesday. Charles Bressler, of Wells and Bressler, a firm which entered a bid, contended yesterday rather spiritedly that the Watson bid should be thrown out.

The lowest bidder on a project calling for one and one-half miles of paving on the Coast highway at Dana Point was the Western Construction company, of San Juan Capistrano. This firm entered a bid of $143,474.20. Final awarding of contracts, however, was continued and the matter will be up again next Tuesday.

COURT REFUSES DISMISSAL OF BIGAMY CHARGE

Superior Judge E. J. Marks today denied a motion for dismissing charges of bigamy against Clarence P. Rand, of El Paso, which was made by counsel for Rand on the ground that he had been declared a lunatic by a Texas court and ordered confined in a San Antonio, Texas, institution last January.

The motion was made by Franklin G. West, who appeared with counsel for Rand today when his trial was resumed. Deputy District Attorney S. B. Kaufman countered West's argument by citing a case in which a man who had just been declared insane by a California court had killed a sheriff in the courtroom and had been tried and convicted for murder.

In denying the motion, Judge Marks pointed out that Rand has pleaded not guilty and not guilty by reason of insanity. The insanity matter will not become an issue, the court stated, until after the jury has heard the evidence as to Rand's guilt or innocence.

The jury was selected today and the deposition of Rand's alleged fourth wife, Mrs. Lourice Anthony, of Chelan, Wn., was read. Mrs. Anthony gave her testimony last week when Rand's attorney, F. H. Lyon, was unable to appear and his associate, Cliff Lyon, appeared for him. Mrs. Anthony's deposition was taken in order that she might return to her home. She testified that during the three months before she married Rand he was drunk almost every day.

District Attorney Z. B. West Jr., and Deputy District Attorney Sam L. Collins appeared for the prosecution today with Kaufman.

DISABLED VETS' NATIONAL HEAD LAUDS MURPHY

William J. Murphy, of Santa Ana, department commander of the California Disabled American Veterans, was a guest of honor at the meeting of Hollywood post of the American Legion last night in Hollywood. Murphy explained the problems of the disabled men to members of the post.

This morning he was officially commended in a letter from National Commander Rice, of the Disabled American Veterans, for putting two of his chapters, Santa Ana and Sacramento, over the top in their 1928-29 membership campaigns. They won double honors and valuable trophies for his department by being the first chapters in the nation to reach their quotas.

The department of California, D. A. V. W. W., also leads the nation in membership. Murphy, who already has been prominently men-

WILL BE GUEST AT BALL

Buron Fitts, former lieutenant governor of California and now district attorney of Los Angeles county, who is to be an honored guest at the military ball to be given tonight, at St. Ann's Inn, by the Disabled American Veterans of the World War. Fitts, himself a Disabled Veteran, is shown at the left below as he appeared as an officer in France, in 1918, and at the right as he appears today.

ALL IN READINESS FOR GRAND BALL OF DISABLED VETERANS; NOTED FIGURES WILL ATTEND

Intensive work and careful planning of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War and of prominent civic leaders who have co-operated with them will flower at 9 o'clock tonight when hundreds of prominent Orange county people will mingle with distinguished national military figures and foreign diplomats at St. Ann's Inn at the first annual military ball of the Disabled Veterans.

Buron Fitts, former lieutenant-governor of California and now district attorney of Los Angeles county, who is a prominent member of the Disabled Veterans and American Legion organizations, will be among the honored guests, according to an announcement today by Jack Fisher, commander of the veterans' group.

To Be Colorful Affair
Reservations for the affair have been secured by well known persons all over Orange county and it was predicted today that the ball will not be only the largest but also the most brilliant of its kind ever held here. With army, navy and air service officers appearing in uniform and with representatives of foreign nations attending in formal dress, the huge social event will offer a striking and colorful picture.

Lou Traveller's orchestra, said to be one of the outstanding musical groups on the Pacific coast, will furnish the melody and rhythm for the dancers. Decorations featuring The Colors will grace the hall. High class entertainment in the periods between dances will feature the affair.

The executive committee appointed by Fisher, which has worked out plans and has made arrangements for the ball, includes Mrs. F. E. Coulter, president of the

CREDIT SPEECH DELIVERED AT EXCHANGE MEET

Members of the Orange County Builders' exchange heard H. W. Baum, Los Angeles contractor, talk on "Credit Stabilization in the Building Industry," at their monthly dinner meeting in the Anaheim Elks club last night.

Baum described the Biddle credit plan being used in many cities throughout the country. Following a discussion on a license law for general contractors, a committee was authorized to investigate two different plans and report to a committee representing the state exchange and the Associated General Contractors of America. A bill providing for such a license will be submitted at the next session of the state legislature.

Entertainment consisted of songs by A. C. Hunt, and dances by the Misses Sally and Dorothy Coe, accompanied by Mrs. Coe.

The attendance prize, donated by W. J. Kelly, was won by A. C. Townsend.

Guests included H. M. Adams, George R. Wells and C. E. Bressler. The latter introduced the speaker of the evening.

When Food Sours

Sweeten the stomach—instantly

About two hours after eating many people suffer from sour stomachs. They call it indigestion. It means that the stomach nerves have been over-stimulated. There is excess acid. The way to correct it is with an alkali, which neutralizes many times its volume in acid.

The right way is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia—just a tasteless dose in water. It is pleasant, efficient and harmless. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

It is the quick method. Results come almost instantly. It is the approved method. You will never use another when you know.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drug store.

JUST A CHAT

The other day a lady came in, and she said "Goodness, I didn't know you had such beautiful things as you have in your store."

And we took her around and showed her nearly everything we had, just to enable us to get better acquainted.

She has, we know, told lots of her friends about our displays, for she remarked about our beautiful Drapery Fabrics

Satin Brocades and Modernistic Designs, and also about our displays of Window Shade materials with their distinctive colorings.

She was surprised in the knowledge that we sold Wrought Iron Rods as well as the ordinary wooden poles.

Incidentally, she ordered a certain pattern of linoleum from among the many designs of Armstrong's qualities on display here, and as she left she also ordered two beautiful rugs chosen from our stock.

QUESTION LEGALITY OF HIGHWAY BIDS

The board of supervisors today opened bids on two paving projects at Dana Point calling for a 66-foot pavement one and one-half miles long on the Coast highway there and for the paving of several streets in the sub-division between the highway and the ocean. Western Construction company, of San Juan Capistrano, was low bidder on the Coast highway job with an estimate of $143,474.20. R. A. Watson, of Los Angeles, was low on the subdivision project with a bid of $123,014.60. The supervisors will award contracts on the work next Tuesday.

Both projects call for installation of sidewalks, curbs and ornamental lights. Watson's bid was unsigned and its legality, for that reason, was questioned. The question has been placed before the district attorney for an opinion. In the event that his bid should be illegal, the next lowest is that of the Fleming Construction company, of Pomona, for $127,236.20. That bid, too, however, was questioned, inasmuch as the Fleming company did not include one item. The next bid is that of Hall and Johnson, of Alhambra, for $128,000.

STOMACH UPSET

Get at the real cause. That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with indigestion? Take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. Know them by their olive color. They do the work without gripping, cramps or pain. All druggists.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like, 15c, 50c, 60c.—Adv.

WHAT A DOCTOR KNOWS ABOUT CONSTIPATION

There IS a way of overcoming the tendency to constipation. And here is how you can PROVE it. The next time your bowels need any assistance, don't take the first laxative that comes to mind. Take one the druggist can assure you is made with CASCARET. Just as effective as using force, and it's good for the system. Indeed, it helps make good blood. For cascara is nothing but the bark of a tree. The Indians chew this bark, and live to an old age without a day's sickness.

What happens when you cascade the bowels? They will usually function well for SEVERAL DAYS. One more dose—no larger, and perhaps smaller than the first—and the bowels function of their own accord for a still longer time. Un-

CHARGE PUBLIC NOT PROTECTED BY COMMISSION

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Congress will turn its spotlight on the whole radio broadcasting situation. It was made plain today when Senator C. C. Dill, Democrat, of Washington, introduced an amendment to the radio act to limit broadcasting power to 10,000 watts.

At the same time, Senator James E. Watson, of Indiana, chairman of the interstate commerce committee, announced he would sponsor a resolution of inquiry into the recent drastic reallocation plan of the federal radio commission.

Dill's amendment would permit broadcasting on more than 10,000 watts power only for experimental purposes and only between midnight and 6 a. m.

"The increased number of stations allowed to use 50,000 watts of power show that the public can expect no protection from the commission against these high-powered stations which dominate the dials of most receiving sets within a radius of 150 or 200 miles of the station using immense power," declared Dill.

"Since the commission will not protect the public, congress is the only body that can do so. The people for whom congress passed radio legislation are entitled to conditions under which they can listen to stations other than those of immense power."

Meanwhile the commission was waging its own fight for existence in the district court of appeals, where station WGY of Schenectady was given permission to disregard the reallocation order for another 20 days, or until final adjudication.

The additional time was allowed at the request of the station to permit both parties to file additional briefs.

The case is being watched with interest by the broadcasting industry and listeners, as a decision in favor of the station may sound the death knell of the reallocation plan and possibly the commission itself. In the words of L. G. Caldwell, general counsel for the commission,

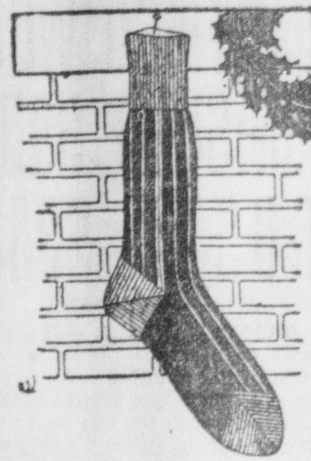

"the whole allocation system is in danger."

"In the event the court sees fit to grant the appellant's motion, there is nothing to prevent the other 600 broadcasters from contesting the commission's authority and throwing broadcasting into a state of chaos not unlike that which existed before congress took hold of it," he said.

Station WGY, ordered to leave the air at 10 o'clock nightly in favor of KGO, of Oakland, Calif., obtained a temporary injunction and now is seeking to make it permanent.

The entire question is one of the power invested in the commission by the Davis amendment to the radio act.

Late News From Orange County Communities

Want Entire County Included In Proposed Harbor Bill

RANCH SUPPORT IS SOUGHT BY BEACH C. OF C.

NEWPORT BEACH, Dec. 5.—Recommendation that the new harbor district bill, which is being planned by a special committee of the local chamber of commerce, included all of Orange county in the district, was made at a meeting of the chamber of commerce directors here yesterday.

The report was made by J. P. Greeley, chairman of the special committee appointed some time ago on harbor legislation. It was pointed out by Greeley that the flood control district embraces all of the county and he stated that he saw no reason why the harbor district should not include the entire county.

The committee will meet with officials of the Irvine company in the near future in an effort to secure the co-operation of the large ranch interests in putting through the special harbor district measure. The committee plans to have a special harbor district bill, similar to the Ventura harbor district bill, ready for presentation at the next session of the state legislature.

J. A. Beek, chairman of the citizens' harbor committee of 15 persons, was named as an additional member of the special chamber of commerce group. Other members are Lew H. Wallace and G. C. Macleod. The bill will be submitted to the citizens' harbor committee and to all civic bodies in the harbor district for endorsement before it is sent to the legislature, it is reported.

The local chamber of commerce is working on a new school district bill which will allow the separation of an elementary school district from a city high school district. Attempts to break away from the Santa Ana high school district by the local elementary school districts have met with failure.

Reports of special committees were made at the session. City Engineer R. L. Patterson reported to members of the committee that progress was being made on plans for a viaduct across the state highway at the Arches intersection. Patterson stated that the Pacific Electric company had offered to donate a 10-foot strip of land for the road if it was not assessed for paving. It was decided to leave the matter of improving the street up to the property owners in the district.

Changes in the constitution of the chamber of commerce will not be made at once but will be placed in the hands of a special committee. It was reported at the meeting yesterday. Howard Cloyes, J. P. Greeley and Lester Isbell were named on the committee.

A communication was read from the Pacific Electric Railway company explaining the company's plan to establish three passenger landings between Alvarado street and B street. The plan was approved by the chamber directors.

Several other minor matters were taken up and a communication was read from the Tournament of Roses association at Pasadena offering the local chamber of commerce a block of tickets for the New Year's football classic.

Buena Park Kiwanians In Election

BUENA PARK, Dec. 5.—Richard Nelson was elected president of the Kiwanis club at the regular meeting of the organization last night. The annual business meeting of the club was held in the social hall of the new church and was preceded by a supper served by members of the Aid society.

Other officers elected included Henry Warren, first vice president; Louis A. Fry, treasurer; Robert Warlamont, district trustee; I. D. Jaynes, Oscar West, Leon Wilsey, Charles Moriarity, Ivan Elmore, Garrison Costar and Herbert Bixby, directors.

SAN CLEMENTE CHAMBER SETS MEETING DATES

SAN CLEMENTE, Dec. 5.—Members of the board of directors of the San Clemente Chamber of Commerce held their regular weekly meeting at Travaglini's cafe yesterday. It was decided that the chamber as a whole would meet the first Tuesday of each month and that the directors would meet each Tuesday of the month.

Capt. H. H. Hammer, secretary, reported that he had moved his offices into the temporary structure moved to the head of Del Mar on the east side of the state highway. Ole Hanson Jr. and Thomas Murphine sr., a committee on furniture, reported that as the chamber was to move into the permanent quarters in the new Oscar Baeley bank building that no furniture would be purchased at this time but that enough for the permanent home would be secured.

The board of directors voted to publish a city directory and planned to start a drive which would find all houses numbered and street names placed in a conspicuous place. Dan Mulherson, president, instructed the secretary to find out why post office boxes were not placed on the streets of San Clemente.

Captain Hammer reported that the San Clemente chamber was a 100 per cent organization, every business house in the city belonging to the organization in an active way.

The report showed an excess fund of $7271.61 in the outfall sewer fund.

A report from the city recorder's office showed $175 collected in fines for liquor violations and $108.50 for traffic violations. All tickets but one had been turned in and officers were looking for the holder of this ticket, it was reported.

A report from the city water superintendent showed 18,952,000 gallons of water pumped, three new water services installed, 1400 feet of six-inch cast iron pipe laid on East Sycamore street, and two new fire hydrants installed. The water level in the city wells December 1 was 165 feet and 159 feet in 1927.

Eleven building permits were issued during the month and $306.35 collected for same. Streets oil and graded during the past month were Cypress street from Sycamore avenue to Walnut avenue, Pixley street to Chapman avenue to Maple street and an alley running south of Palm from Cypress to Lemon street. The council adjourned to December 18.

$55,000 DRAIN SYSTEM IS PROPOSED FOR ORANGE BY CITY ENGINEER BONEBRAKE

ORANGE, Dec. 5.—A preliminary plan for a storm drain to care for all drainage water of streets running east and west from Walnut to La Veta was presented to the city council by City Engineer C. C. Bonebrake yesterday.

Alternate plans were suggested by Bonebrake. One proposed route would lie along Lemon street and the other along Grand street. During an informal discussion of the project members of the council expressed themselves as favoring Lemon street for the drain.

According to Bonebrake's survey, the drain would be about 6600 feet in length and would be from six to 14 feet deep, depending on the slope of the land. The maximum size of the pipe would be about 42 inches and the minimum size 24 inches.

If the present plans are followed it is estimated that the drain will cost about $55,000. The installation of the system would do away with any waste water on the down streets as well as relieve residents of the proposed district from the inconvenience of the excessive accumulation of water during storm periods.

The installation of 20 catch basins at the intersection is included in the preliminary survey.

Allen, announced that the suit brought against the city of Fullerton relative to the purchasing of 26 acres for an additional acreage to the municipal airport would be brought to trial in Santa Ana, December 17. T. G. Aten, who filed the suit, claims the city's contract was not legal.

Fullerton, Dec. 5.—Plans for handling flood water conditions in Fullerton were laid at the bi-monthly meeting of the Fullerton city council last night.

Following a discussion of flood waters on Spadra road in rainy weather, the council instructed the city engineer, C. M. Thorpe, to determine the cost of an underground channel from North Spadra road to the west side baranca to carry the water off of the main street. This would prevent a great part of the water from running down through the business district. The city engineer will report back at the next meeting.

Following the reading of a petition from property owners on the northside of West Malvern avenue between Ford and Highland avenues relative to the drainage conditions in the alleys back of the residents' property, the city council authorized the city engineer to devise ways of relieving the flood conditions. It was thought by the council that by filling in the low places in the alley, the water would be carried off.

A communication was received from Eugene Martin, of San Diego, in which he recommended that the city council inaugurate a different plan for handling traffic on Spadra road. He urged that the parking be changed to parallel position, that boulevard stops be placed on all side streets leading up to Spadra road, and that a white-painted line be placed on the street from one end of the town to the other.

The city council referred the recommendations to the street committee to report back at a later meeting.

Ernest Garner was appointed to the Fullerton police department following the recommendations of the chief of police. Garner will fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Irwin Christie. Christie was appointed two weeks ago but resigned shortly after the appointment when he decided that he did not care to be a policeman. Garner has been a resident of Fullerton for the past five years, the past two years being a truck driver for a local concern.

A new fire plug will be installed on East Chapman avenue. It was decided by the city council, following the recommendation of Fire Chief Roy Davis, who declared that the district where the new plug will be installed has not enough plugs.

SUGAR O. K. FOR TEETH, SAYS M.D.

Any and All Food Should Be Brushed From the Teeth After Eating

Who, with any basis of fact, ever said that sugar is harmful to the teeth? An eminent British medical authority recently showed that sugar, perhaps more than any other food, tends to promote the flow of saliva in the mouth, which should be conducive to preserving the teeth in a clean state. He also pointed out that sugar promotes the flow of gastric juice and so is an aid to digestion. Rough foods and fruits are thought to be good for the teeth. How could anyone ever eat them without sugar?

The main thing is to eat a variety of healthful foods and to enjoy them. That's what the teeth are for. Medical authorities are alarmed to-day that so many girls and also adults are starving themselves in order to reduce weight. This passing fad, in the opinion of many doctors, has become a serious menace to health, frequently causing injuries that are permanent.

Eat enough nourishing food, and remember that sweetness is nature's perfect flavor. Nothing can take the place of sugar in making the whole meal enjoyable. Eat some citrus fruit—sweetened to taste—at least once a day. Take care of your teeth and enjoy eating. The Sugar Institute.

EDUCATION IN HOME SUBJECT IN PLACENTIA

PLACENTIA, Dec. 5.—Dr. Thomas Newlin, of Fullerton Junior college, was the speaker at the P.-T. A. meeting Tuesday afternoon. His subject was "The Family and Its Implications."

"Experts are stressing the fact that foundations of character are laid in the early years," said Dr. Newlin. "Training in the home is the most important that can be given in the world. Consciously or unconsciously we are teaching our children some sort of religion or politics, but things that should be taught in the home are being relegated to the schools. The home must be a growing and changing institution, to keep up with constantly changing conditions of life. Parents should have well founded plans for the rearing of children, and reason should be the basis of these plans."

Light System Planned In Buena Park

BUENA PARK, Dec. 5.—An ornamental lighting system may be installed in Buena Park in the near future if plans being formulated by the local chamber of commerce are carried out. Members of the chamber discussed the lighting problem at last night's regular meeting of the chamber. It is planned to install street lights on many of the residential streets of the town. The main thoroughfare through the city is already lighted.

Several other matters were discussed but no action was taken by the body. There was a large attendance.

COUNTY COAST BODY TO HOLD CONFAB DEC. 13

SAN CLEMENTE, Dec. 5.—The December meeting of the Orange County Coast association will be held at the Travaglini cafe Thursday evening, December 13, according to announcement by T. B. Talbert, new president of the organization.

NEW TUITION RULING GIVEN JR. COLLEGES

By ED JOHNSON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
(Special to The Register)

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 5.—Junior college students in California, attending schools outside their districts, cannot reasonably be expected to pay in any given year for those permanent features as new buildings or new site in the opinion of Attorney General U. S. Webb.

The attorney general, in an opinion handed William John Cooper, state superintendent of public instruction, sided with the superintendent of San Francisco in his decision.

A controversy arose recently when the superintendent of Marin county submitted a bill for educating San Francisco students at the Marin county junior college. The bill included the cost of some new buildings and the land on which they were erected. The cost was pro-rated among the students.

San Francisco refused to pay the bill. The superintendent declared that students of one year would unfairly be paying for the improvements from which students of succeeding years would then benefit without cost.

This incongruity would not be upheld in any court, Webb's opinion said.

His decision was based on the wording of the statute providing for tuition from out of district students. At the last regular session of the legislature the word "net" was struck out of the statute calling for a report on the "net cost of education."

Marin county officials held that this meant "the total expenditures regardless of whether they are for improvements or maintenance." Webb was of the opinion that "cost of education" as amended, did include such expenses as those listed.

Walter E. Morgan, chief of the division of research and statistics of the state department of education, pointed out that a computation such as that suggested by Marin county officials would put the cost of educating each pupil in San Bernardino at $225.51 as against $160.23 for Sacramento county in the same year.

Copies of the opinion were sent to county superintendents and junior college boards.

GETS 30 DAYS FOR TOSSING CUE BALL

GLOBE, Ariz., Dec. 5.—(UP)—It takes an even temper and a cool disposition to make a good billiard player and Ed Stockbury is going to have 30 whole days—in the city jail—in which to cool off before he tries his skill at the green cloth again.

Stockbury was arrested on a charge of throwing billiard balls at the proprietor of the White Front Billiard Parlor.

"I just lost my temper," Stockbury told Police Judge Hinson Thomas.

"Billiard players shouldn't lose their tempers," said the judge. "I'll give you 30 days in jail and perhaps you will cool off."

"Thirty days," echoed the billiard player. "I sure ought to."

HAVANA, Dec. 5.—President Machado, in responding to a petition from the National Feminist Alliance, announced that he would send a message to congress urging equal civil rights to women.

GIRL RESERVES TO CONVEY ON FRIDAY

BREA, Dec. 5.—Another bi-monthly meeting is to be held here Friday evening for Girl Reserves of the Brea-Olinda union high school, according to Miss Ethel Church, district secretary of the Y. W. C. A., who was in Brea yesterday planning details of the gathering.

Girl Reserves in Brea number 29, with Mrs. Grace Reed, teacher in the commercial department of the local high school, acting as their advisor and leader. Officers are Miss Ella Armstrong, president; Miss Victoria Reed, vice president; Miss Meva Henderson, secretary; Miss Rose Murray, treasurer.

The Friday night meeting will include the Girl Reserves, their leader, members of the Brea council and interested parents. Miss Church plans on holding a membership banquet in Brea on January 8 at which both senior and junior members of the "Y" are invited.

The second of the monthly socials of the "Y" leaders and council members was held in Fullerton Monday night in the home of Mrs. A. Nemo, with Mrs. Florence Harvey representing the Brea contingent.

LIGHTS ASKED FOR PLACENTIA STREET

PLACENTIA, Dec. 5.—C. E. Haiber presided at the meeting of the city council Monday evening in the absence of the mayor, Harry Easton. A petition was brought before the council by Tom Flicker, representing the lighting committee of the merchants' division of the chamber of commerce, asking for ornamental lights on Santa Fe avenue, and signed by 55 per cent of the property owners on this street.

As it will be necessary to withdraw this street from the present lighting district and make a separate lighting district of it, the matter has been put in the hands of the city attorney, Albert Launer, of Fullerton, and it is expected that all arrangements will be completed when it is brought before the next council meeting.

SANTIAGO, Dec. 5.—The government is considering plans of an American firm for extensive works constructions, which will be part of the six-year public works program involving $200,000,000.

HOW AND SLIDES Henry L. Farrell

CAPTAIN WAS SCOOPED

Art French, captain of the Harvard team, was true to the wishes of his coach and didn't read a newspaper sport page until after the final game of the season against Yale.

And the young man expressed considerable surprise when he observed so much attention being devoted to "Onward, Christian" Cagle, the Cadet back.

"It must have been," French reasoned, "that Cagle did not play his game against Harvard. I was under the impression that in the Army game against Murrell was a much better player than Cagle."

"Scull, the Pennsylvania fullback, was the best individual player I encountered during the season. There were so many others next to him that I couldn't name the second best."

TIP FOR MAGNATES
"Mike" Strong, the outstanding football player of the year, finishes his college course at New York university in June and he has no intention to capitalize his talent in football.

"I never want to play professional football. I have another ambition in another life," he said. "I want to be a major league outfielder. I can hit fairly well and I don't believe I ever will be knocked out by a fly ball. If I get a chance with some major league club, I'll give it a trial."

It is understood that Bill Carrigan has first call on him for the Boston Red Sox and, it might be mentioned incidentally, that the Red Sox are becoming very popular with the college players. Carrigan is highly respected by the boys and so is his boss, Bob Quinn.

WHADDY SAY, ROMAN?
Lena Blackburne hasn't been retained officially as the manager of the Chicago White Sox for another season, but he seems to be unconcerned and is free in his discussion of his plans for 1929. It might be a smart way of putting Comiskey in a tight middle.

Blackburne says that he wants a right-hand hitting outfielder. He is sweet on Cy Perkins, the second string catcher of the A's, but Mack has a sentimental leaning toward him and won't let him go as long as he wants to stay in Philadelphia.

The Sox, according to Blackburne, could get some men they want if they would part with Lyons or Thomas, but they won't.

The Cleveland Indians want Hannefeld but Blackburne isn't even warm on the proposition.

"Willie Kamm will be our third baseman and Hannefeld WILL BE our utility man," he said.

There was talk last season that the club had turned cool on Bib Falk and that he would be separated from Chicago this winter.

"Falk will be all right," Blackburne said. "The only trouble with him is that he didn't take spring training seriously this year."

BIG HE MEN
Bernie Crowl, Rutgers center; Pomeroy, Michigan tackle and Putnam of the Williams line, played through every game of the season without being relieved.

TWO PACIFIC COAST PLAYERS WIN PLACES ON ALL-AMERICA TEAM SELECTED BY FARRELL

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(NEA Service Sports Editor)

There is one thing unfortunate about the business of picking an All-America football team aside from the futility of trying to name eleven men out of eleven hundred who are the best players in the country. The unfortunate thing is that, while the All-America teams are treated with scant seriousness by the public at large, the selections are taken most seriously by the young athletes themselves.

The football writer who travels around extensively meets some of the finest boys in the world. Valuable friendships are established and it is no pleasure to sit down at a typewriter and write a good friend and a young man you admire extremely out of a place that he would give a part of his hide to have. You may laugh at the idea that one can have his feelings hurt by the opinion of an alleged expert. We laughed at the idea until we met a lot of the boys in later years who had been named or omitted from the teams that the manufacturer of this piece had to pick in his line of routine duty.

The point is illustrated in the case of Al Lassman, the New York University tackle.

He is one of the finest lads that ever stepped into a shoe. He has every characteristic of a gentleman and a sportsman and he is a great football player. But he is not on the first team. He may never know that he wasn't and certainly wouldn't care much if it happened to be brought to his attention. And the same applies to Pomeroy, the Michigan tackle.

But, you may be asking, what has this to do with the business at hand. And the answer is nothing. It isn't exactly an all-bi because All-America teams can't be allied. The process of picking an All-America team is similar to that recommended by an American league pitcher in handling the Ruth person. All you can do is pitch and then duck.

There doesn't have to be much explaining about three of the positions in the backfield of the accompanying selections. Harpster, Strong and Cagle named themselves. The fullback position probably will bring about a wide divergence of opinion among the critics. We chose Scull because four of the best coaches in the east assured us that he is one of the greatest all-around backs of years. He is a big, fast fellow who can run, pass and pick and he is perhaps the best defensive back

ELLIS TO BUILD BOXING ARENA. Santa Ana Grid Prospects Dubious

TRADITIONS OF YEARS PRESAGE LUCK, HOWEVER

By GRIDDER

Prospects for a winning football team at Santa Ana high school next year are what might be aptly termed dubious but, if traditions mean anything at all, the city should be represented by a whale of a strong aggregation.

In years gone by Santa Ana has had a good, tough ball team every fourth season—and 1929 is the fourth season.

The four-year cycle of victory really began to operate with any degree of accuracy as early as 1917. "Shorty" Smith coached the Saints that season and put forth a point-making team that lost but once and that to a Long Beach team on which were half a dozen men who later were great college stars. Even the Long Beach game was a close one and Santa Ana scored two touchdowns, enough to win, but both were recalled.

Great Team in 1921
Four years later, in 1921, Santa Ana had what many consider the greatest of all Saint teams. With such stars as Don Williams, "Eeny" Wilcox, Earl Jabs, Bart Cook, "Jeff" Cravath, New Stark, Ted Coffman, Harry Le Bard, and Elliott and Everett Best the 1921 eleven cruised through all opposition to the Southern California championship, losing the state title, however, to Bakersfield.

Nothing much happened to Saint football until another four years rolled by and then in 1925, under the coaching of the colorful "Chuck" Winterburn, now at Stanford, Santa Ana put out a great offensive team that was silenced only in its last game of the season at San Diego.

Santa Ana eleven of 1927 and 1928 showed considerable mid-season scoring power but were never quite able to get over the hump.

To see what can be done about this four-year proposition Coach "Tex" Oliver, the enterprising young newspaperman, won't inherit such a plethora of material as might seem necessary. In fact, Oliver's leanings will be less than any he had had since he first appeared here in 1926.

Backfield Material Strong
There will be plenty of good backfield material for almost all the Saint ball-packers this year were sophomores or juniors but it doesn't take a smart man to know that a team without a line isn't much of a team at all and the facts are quite plain that every first string line man on the 1928 eleven will be through this June.

Captain Hearn, Cooke, Wurster, Hardin, Olsen, Manderscheid, Youel, Berry, Poulsen, DuBois, and Speer—all experienced forwards—will be graduated at the end of the school term.

Keeler, Hales and Buvton, all reserves, will be lost from the backfield but returning will be the great Al Rebohn, Jack Fredricks, Clarence Spencer, Don Crumley, Lloyd Nuzum, Harold Pangle, Norman Paul and Jimmie Hall, all of them good football players.

Glenn Hartman, who saw considerable service at tackle, will return for the line and there will be some good material in Dallas Reichstein, Bruce Tarver, Wayne Vance, Gilbert Meisinger, Gerald Goodrich, Harry Vrayton, Zeno Shelley, Neil Maxwell, Roscoe Old Long, Melvin Finney, Otis Faulkner, William Donahue, Grove Dolmer, Fay Blower, Jack Bender, Jack Belding and Jack Beckett, all of whom remained on the squad most of the season.

MALONEY, SHARKEY TENTATIVELY BOOKED

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—The Boston heavyweights, Jim Maloney and Jack Sharkey, may tangle at Madison Square Garden next month in their fourth meeting. Tom McArdle, matchmaker at the Garden, is completing plans for the battle.

Maloney's victory over Johnny Risko who held a victory over Sharkey, has made it necessary for one of the Boston boys to be dropped by the wayside again, sponsors of the elimination tour-

Hagen Will Enter
L. A. Golf Tourney

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5.—Walter Hagen, British Open golf champion, plans to enter the $10,000 Los Angeles Open tournament next month, he announced here today. Hagen is on a barnstorming tour of Southern California.

Light Fullback

Although he weighs only 120 pounds, Dudley Hormel was the regular fullback for Chick Meehan's New York university eleven. Hormel's showing in early games convinced Meehan that he was able to stand the gaff and as a result, he was made regular fullback late in November. He was, needless to say, the lightest fullback on any major team in this country.

REPORTS HAVE IRISH OFF '29 TROY SCHEDULE

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5.—Whether Notre Dame will be replaced by Navy on the University of Southern California's 1929 football schedule, as rumors indicate, will be determined at the meeting of Pacific Coast conference officials here tomorrow.

One official, who asked that his name be withheld, is reported to have said that a tentative schedule secretly drawn up banished Knute Rockne's "Fighting Irish" from the Trojan gridiron next year.

The alleged shift in schedule is reported due not to any break in relations between the Indiana and California schools, but to Rockne's plans to develop new material before meeting the Trojans again in 1930.

Reports that the Middles will replace Rockne's team first gained credence following a visit to Annapolis by Gwynn Wilson, general manager of the university.

Athletic representatives of the schools of the Pacific Coast conference were gathering here today. One of the most consistent reports preceding the meetings is that the coaches and graduate managers will take up the matter of appointing a director to preside over all conference disputes, appoint referees and settle matters of eligibility.

FOOTBALL

BERKELEY, Dec. 5.—More than 15,000 seats for the California-Georgia Tech football game on New Year's Day in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena have already been applied for, J. F. MacKenzie, Associated Students athletic ticket manager, announced here today on his return from Southern California.

According to present plans, University of California alumni and stadium subscribers will be given priority in purchase of tickets, up to a maximum of four each. Three thousands seats will be sold to California rooters, about 2000 will be allotted to Georgia Tech. The remainder of the 70,000 seats in the bowl will be placed on public sale, at $3, $5 and $6 each. More than two and a half times as many 33 seats will be sold this year than were sold last New Year's.

Headquarters for the ticket department and California managers have been established in the Pacific Southwest building in Pasadena, where W. W. Monahan, California manager, and his staff will move in.

"Nibs" Price, California coach, has made tentative plans to hold one practice at Berkeley December 19, after final examinations are over, and then take the entire squad of 50 men to Pasadena the following day. It is probable that two workouts a day will be held in the Rose Bowl until the arrival of Coach William Alexander and his Golden Tornado from Georgia a day or two after Christmas.

ANNUAL CONFAB OF BASEBALL'S MOGULS BEGINS

By DAVIS J. WALSH
(I.N.S. Sports Editor)

TORONTO, Ont., Dec. 5.—The annual convention of the National Association of Professional Baseball leagues, an organization whose sole purpose is to afford the majors and minors an opportunity to snarl at each other under general auspices, will actually get under way today, after some 48 hours of preliminary shadow-boxing.

With perfect gravity, it will go forward with the annual business of discussing the draft, which has been discussed from every conceivable angle these several years. With its customary snarling, it will consider the things it always considers and do the things it always does which mostly is nobody's business, including the N. A. P. B. L.'s.

With all due ceremony, the word will go forth that the baseball pot is boiling merrily regardless of the fact that the kettle may be empty and the fire low.

Huggins After Infielder

What this country needs in addition to a good five-cent cigar, is a magnate who doesn't retire in haste behind the nearest potted fern in the lobby, and peer furtively out at his fellows every time the word trade is mentioned above a contract. Miller Huggins has been in here 24 hours looking for a third baseman. He is still looking for a third baseman. He probably will go away looking for him. Mr. Huggins is the instigator-in-chief of the most fluent fountain pen in

Major Leagues To Start, Close Earlier

TORONTO, Ont., Dec. 5.—Major league baseball will open its season a week later this coming year and finish it a week earlier in order to avoid the inclement weather that has beset it in the past.

John A. Heydler, president of the National league, made this announcement after a conference with President E. S. Barnard of the American league.

It was definitely settled, Heydler said, that the season would open on Tuesday, April 16, and close on September 29. Heydler also declared that several of his club owners had held out for the old starting and finishing dates but had been persuaded to attempt the innovation.

baseball, yet, if anybody is interested he has concealed the fact very doggedly and well.

Incidentally and strictly for the sake of clarity I made no ulterior reference to delegates in the above paragraph. It is the fern that is potted.

Anyhow, John McGraw is coming into town today and perhaps he

ALHAMBRA AND COMPTON PREPS MIX SATURDAY

The Prep football season is supposed to be over, but the mythical championship squabble lingers on. In two high school giants that are billed as the last of a long line of challenging matches, Alhambra meets Compton at the Coliseum, and Covina clashes with Monrovia on a field yet to be named, both battles on Saturday.

Orr Mohler and his great Alhambra Moors, as the only major undefeated eleven in prepdom, are the popular favorites to trounce the Compton Lions. A two-year jinx faces the Coast Preparatory league championship squad as the Bay Loop has twice defeated the rival conference representative in the past two seasons. Inglewood turned the trick against Long Beach Poly in 1926 and Huntington Park overwhelmed Pasadena last year.

Mohler, considered the Southland's greatest prospect in the past 10 years, has demolished every team Alhambra has faced. A fast, shifty and powerful runner, he has carried the ball for 22 touchdowns this year. Coach George Hobbs has built a powerful team about Mohler, one whose line shares glory with Mohler.

Compton is not yet ready to admit that Alhambra is the class of the Southland. Before their defeat by San Pedro, the Lions had been unscathed on and had set a new high scoring mark near the 300 figure. Although illness and injury has hit the backfield hard, the ball-packing department of Yancey, Brown, Smith and McKee should be ready for the Alhambra avalanche.

The Alhambra-Compton victor may boldly claim the mythical Southland title, but the winner of the Covina-Monrovia scrap will not accept it. Nor will Pomona, Los Angeles Poly, Gardena and other individual league champions. After walloping Covina by one touchdown earlier in the year, Pomona dropped a 19-13 tilt last Thursday. That game decided little in the comparative ranking of both teams.

There will be no playoff between the two winners Saturday, so that the season will have ultimately decided nothing. Although the four teams playing are generally considered to be the most powerful in the Southland, the fact remains that Gardena in the Marine league and Burbank in the San Fernando League are undefeated.

Although no official word is forthcoming, it is firmly believed that the C. I. F. will return to Southern California and State playoff system if the proper influence is brought to bear. While the true reason for abolishing the playoffs was given as over-emphasis of football, close students of the prep game say that the move was a political one only to preserve harmony in the ranks and keep certain power from becoming usurped.

Anxious to fight himself into condition for Jimmie Rivers next week, Zenaydo Chavez, the young Santa Ana fistic sensation, goes to the well again tonight at Henry Foust's Orange County Amateur Athletic club.

DELHI MAN TO OPERATE UNDER STATE LICENSE

Tentative plans for the construction of a brand new arena on his property near Delhi were divulged today by Boyd Ellis, veteran boxing promoter. The pavilion, on which work is expected to start immediately, will accommodate at least 1800 persons, it is understood. The structure will be approximately 70 by 100 feet.

Ellis apparently was not prepared to announce the full extent of his scheme but it was known that he has received assurance that he will be granted a legitimate operating license from the California state boxing commission and that his bouts will be conducted according to strict state laws and regulations. The first series of bouts will be held early in the new year, it is believed.

Such a license will permit the Delhi impresario to promote 10-round boxing contests and will enable him to sign some of the best talent available for it is believed Orange county fans are ready for a look at some high class boxing.

It has been years since regulated boxing has been in force anywhere in the county and in the one spot where it was attempted since the long-route matches were legal, Huntington Beach, the promoters did not fare well financially.

Various ambitious promoters made efforts from time to time to secure a license from the state commission for the operation of 10-round boxing near Santa Ana but their overtures always were turned on deaf ears, the commission being under the impression that Orange county citizens were strictly against regulated boxing.

The commission's attitude changed, however, when at the recent election it was shown that the county's voters were more or less favorably inclined toward the "game."

Mat Rivals Mix In 'Grudge' Bout

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5.—Marin Plestina, the 240-pound "trust buster," and Joe Falcewicz, the 200-pounder from Utica, N. Y., two of the most bitter rivals in the heavyweight ranks, will clash in a finish mat battle here tonight.

The bout is expected to be a fast affair, with flying mares, reverse flying mares, headlocks, toe-holds, armlocks and scissors furnishing most of the punishment and excitement.

PACIFIC COAST GRID TEAM FOR 1928 SELECTED

By STANLEY BAILEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 5.—Pacific Coast football strength during the 1928 season was well distributed from University of Southern California to Washington.

Victories of Oregon State and Stanford in New York last week demonstrated the power of coast football machines. The closeness of the conference race and now All-Coast selections show that no institution has a monopoly on football ability.

The United Press All-Coast selection, made on recommendations of sports writers in all-coast cities referees and other experts, places three University of California men on the mythical eleven, two from the Stanford team, two from U. S. C. and one each from Washington State, Oregon, Washington and St. Mary's of Oakland.

The pick of the gridiron experts is as follows:
Ends—Phillips, U. C.; Franklin, St. Mary's.

Tackles—Dressel, W. S. C.; Bancroft, U. C.

Guards—Robesky, Stanford; Post, Stanford.

Center—Stadlerman, Oregon.

Quarter—Williams, U. S. C.

Halfbacks—Lom, U. C.; Thomas, U. S. C.

Fullback—Carroll, W.

Hibbs, U. S. C. tackle, pick of some experts for All-American honors, received a substantial vote in the United Press All-Coast poll, but honors were awarded Dressel and Bancroft.

McCaslin, U. S. C. received much support for an end position.

Phillips was the unanimous choice of the experts for this place on the eleven and the two Stanford guards, Robesky and Post, received the next greatest number of votes. Carroll was popular both for his fullback position and a job as halfback. Tappan, U. S. C., was the choice of several for a wing position.

TWO COAST PLAYERS NAMED BY FARRELL

and blocker in the game. Lou Young, the Pennsylvania coach, rates him as the best fullback he ever handled and there have been All-America backs before him in the Pennsylvania squad.

Mizell ought to be on the first team but he was put on the second team because there wasn't room on the first and because some very good judges who saw the three men in action said that Strong and Cagle were bigger and faster than Mizell and that Strong and Cagle were marked men in every game they played and Mizell had plenty of help from Thomason and Lumpkin.

Fessler was given the honor wing position on personal opinion through observation and also on the judgment of Western conference coaches who all said he rated the first team. Vansickle was given the other position because of the splendid recommendations that came from every scout in the South.

The tackle positions presented a difficult problem. There were more good tackles than there were guards. Hibbs was good enough for the All-America last year and he was just as good this year. Getto was perhaps the least known star in the country but there is no doubt that he was among the best and perhaps the very best of the year.

Pund was the outstanding center of the year although some of the southern experts thought that Pressley was better. It was a minority opinion, however. Howe was a brilliant pivot man but he wasn't the all-around performer that Pund was.

With the exception of the backfield men, center and left end the men on the second team are there largely because there wasn't enough room on the first team. The line-men of the second team might switch places with the men on the first team without doing great damage and the third team perhaps is as good as the second. There is no way of telling but there are plenty of ways to get an argument about it and the best way is to pick three teams and duck away from the shower of missiles.

These teams are picked and we now take the big duck.

Willie Hoppe To Seek 3-Cushions Billiard Crown

CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—Willie Hoppe will make a bid for the world three-cushion billiard title December 17, 18 and 19 at the tournament there. Rumors that Hoppe would not play for the only billiard title he has not held were set at rest when he sent in his entry yesterday.

Financial difficulties with the National Billiard association had been reported as keeping Hoppe out. He qualified last fall for the tournament by finishing second. The other three who will compete are Johnny Layton, Otto Reisel and Gus Copulos.

Ralph Greenleaf, champion; Frank Taberski, Erwin Rudolph and Paskuale Natale will play for the world pocket billiard crown at a tournament in conjunction with the three-cushion competition.

BASEBALL POW-WOW OPENS IN TORONTO

will start something. John is a thoroughly experienced starter, his versatility being boundless. Stanley Harris and Frank Navin, of Detroit, are expected on the same train and probably will close their deal with the Toronto club for Johnny Prudhomme, pitcher, and Dale Alexander, first baseman. The Yanks are understood to have wanted both of them and will get neither.

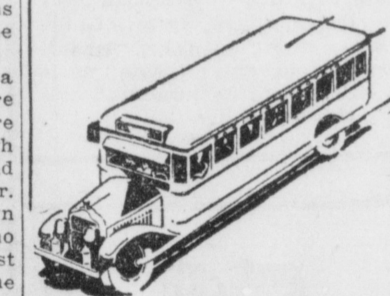

Yank-Boston Deal Off
Just who may be the third baseman sought by Huggins is a matter of much comment to the gossips. They say it isn't "Buddy" Myer, of the Boston Red Sox. In fact, the word is that the Boston-New York deal is off like a hat in church.

They say it may be Ossie Bluege of the Senators and the name of Fred Haney, of Indianapolis, has been handled about in a manner most indiscriminate, however, it may be that Frederick will manage the Seattle club.

A deal between Detroit and Chicago, involving Harry Hellmann and Bib Falk, also has been discussed at much length and in great detail by those who know nothing about it. Give the lads a little time and they will think up a lot of good one. Anyway, they are all in there swinging and maybe somebody will forget to buck and lo, behold and other exclamatory sounds and we will actually have a baseball trade.

As for the draft, the solution, if any, seems to be a bit above and beyond the average member of the assemblage. The system is far from perfect as it stands, but it will have to suffice until a better one is presented. This matter is something like Mrs. Mavourneen's young daughter Kathleen. It may take years and it may take forever and maybe some genius hitherto hiding his light under a potted fern will spring from ambush with the answer today.

MERCED RIVER ICE ATTRACTS SKATING FANS

YOSEMITE, Dec. 5.—Three inches of solid "black ice," covering 5000 feet of the Merced river's surface, has transformed the "oil" swimming hole" of summer memories into one of the finest ice skating ponds local residents can recall. It is extremely popular night and day with the winter sport visitors now in Yosemite. The black ice is so named because of its darkened appearance due to the color of the river bottom at this point.

E. Des Balleys, winter sports director for Yosemite National park, is now in charge of the new ice skating rink being constructed across the road from Camp

Curry. He has installed a lighting system and two small rest houses where visitors may don their skates. Special selections of skating music will entertain the skaters as a phonograph with a loud speaking attachment will be used on the rink. A special skating instructor will be available to assist beginners and a figure skater will give exhibitions after December 15.

According to Des Balleys skiing is now also possible, along with other winter sports finding popular favor. More than five inches of snow still remains on the south side of Yosemite valley, covering this region with a soft blanket considered ideal for winter sport activities. The cool clear nights recently prevailing in Yosemite have done much to maintain the snow and ice in a satisfactory manner for skating, skiing, tobogganing, and snowshoeing.

STUHLREHER PICKS ALL-AMERICAN TEAM

VILLA NOVA, Pa., Dec. 5.—Harry Stuhlreher, coach of the undefeated Villa Nova college football eleven and quarterback of the famous "Four Horsemen" who made Notre Dame football history, today made known his selections for All-American honors.

His selections follow:
First team: Fessler, Ohio State, L. E.; Donchess, Pitt, R. E.; Lassman, N. Y. U., L. T.; Mooney, Georgetown, R. T.; Heinecke, Stanford, C.; Getto, Pitt, L. G.; Thompson, Lafayette, R. G.; Harpster, Carnegie Tech, Q.; Strong, N. Y. U., L. H.; Cagle, Army, R. H., and Scull, Penn, F. B.

Robesky, Stanford guard; Maple, Oregon State, quarter, and Carroll, University of Washington, fullback, were named on Stuhlreher's second team.

Canadian Tennis Leader Summoned

LONDON, Dec. 5.—Col. H. G. Mayes, Anglo-Canadian tennis player, died suddenly today of blood-poisoning. The poisoning was reported to have originated from a boil on the face.

Col. Mayes, although well over 40, was regarded as one of the fittest athletes in the country. In recent years he reached the last eight in the Wimbledon finals. He had written many articles on athletics, health and fitness.

S. A. COLLEGE GIRLS QUIT 1928 PLAY-DAY

Women's basketball and volleyball teams of the junior college will not participate in the fall play day scheduled for Saturday, December 8, at Compton. It was announced today by Mrs. Ellen Foote, instructor of women's sports at the college. The necessary withdrawal from all school activities occasioned by the closing of the schools was given as the reason.

Because of a similar closing of schools in Pasadena, it is expected that teams from that city will not participate. There is a possibility that Fullerton will also withdraw.

Munich, Germany, will hereafter hold its musical Oktober Fest in September.

Stock in county planning has also gone up. Colonel Lindbergh gets up and goes, and nobody knows where he is going. If he gets married and worries his wife like that, and if his wife will love him as the rest of the country loves him, there'll be a scared woman about half of the time. OTT IS NAMED PRESIDENT OF EXCHANGE CLUB

John Ott, district manager of the Southern Counties Gas company, will pilot the Santa Ana Exchange club in 1929. At the annual election, held at noon yesterday in Ketter's cafe, Ott was chosen to succeed Gene Douglas, retiring executive.

Ott had earned the admiration of the organization by his work as chairman of the Americanization committee, which has carried out the club's welfare work among the Mexican people of the city in co-operation with the Americanization department of the public schools.

Clyde Jenken, city engineer, was made first vice president at yesterday's election, while Gene Hays, insurance man, was selected as second vice president.

Lester Tubbs, automobile insurance man, was chosen as secretary. Charles Pritchard, banker, was re-elected to the position of treasurer. Pritchard gave his annual report on the club's financial condition, which was shown to be healthy.

Ott, in a brief address to the club, pledged himself to work for the continued success of the organization and stressed the value of maintaining the good fellowship, harmony, attendance and co-operation which has marked the club's history during the past administrations. The other new officers gave brief acceptance talks in which they promised to co-operate with the new president and to work for the betterment of the club.

Douglas, who also is district governor of the club for the southern section of the state, will go to Indio tomorrow, he announced. The trip will be a regular visit to the Indio Exchange club. Frank Koss, Bob Schilling and Ott probably will accompany Douglas.

A challenge was issued to the Newport Beach Exchange club in which that group was invited to compete with the Santa Ana organization in a golf tournament. The date of the affair is yet to be selected.

The annual inaugural ball of the club, tentatively planned for December 19, was postponed until after the first of the year by action of the club yesterday. Uncertainty as to the influenza situation was the reason for the action. Gene Hays, newly-elected second vice president, is chairman of the committee for the affair.

EVERY SEAL SOLD WILL HELP THIS CHILD

Here is pictured just an incident of a day in the Orange County Health camp, in Santiago canyon, which is maintained largely by funds derived by the Orange County Tuberculosis association from the sale of Christmas seals. Dr. E. W. Hayes, of Monrovia, consulting specialist of the association, is "listening in" on the lung action of one of the boys in the camp. Miss Phyllis Norton, a nurse, stands behind the physician and Mrs. Amelia Meagher, secretary of the association and director of the camp, is at the right.

The First National directors will meet Tuesday to fill the vacancy created by the death of Huff. Directors of the savings department of the First National will meet Wednesday.

In addition to election of a new member, the board probably will name a new president for the organization, as Huff was president of the institution. W. B. Tedford is vice president of the bank.

School Trustee To Tell Reasons For Auditorium Action

YORBA LINDA, Dec. 5.—The regular meeting of the P. T. A. will be held Thursday evening in the social hall of the Friends church.

It will be "fathers' night" for the P. T. A. and S. C. Hartman, trustee of the Fullerton union high school, will be present and will talk on the reason why the high school trustees voted to build a new auditorium when plans for a new junior college for northern Orange county are being discussed.

Santa Ana Asked to Donate $12,000 to Support Of Health Camp

The greatest health campaign in the history of Orange county, backed by civic, church and fraternal organizations, the service clubs, Federation of Women's Clubs, board of education, Parent-Teacher associations, county health department, Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., has been launched with the release of 3,500,000 Christmas seals by the Orange County Tuberculosis association.

The need for the intensive Christmas seal sale this year is stressed by H. A. Lake, president of the association, who points out that children from every community in the county are being taken care of in the open air school in Santiago canyon and given an opportunity to fight their way back to health.

"Last summer," he said, "we handled 50 under-nourished youngsters. We have facilities for 50 children with our new dormitories, cottages and school. The overhead is practically the same, but the running expenses must be provided.

"The Orange County Children's Health camp has proved a real investment. It therefore justifies the careful investigation of every resident of the county.

"Full support of the Christmas seal sale will help to give the under-privileged children of Orange county a chance for perfect health, which is every child's right."

The quota for Santa Ana is $12,000. Those who fail to get their allotment of Christmas seals are asked to get in touch with Mrs. Edward M. Nealley, route 1, Box 121A, Santa Ana, or phone Santa Ana 795-M, or the Orange County Tuberculosis association headquarters, Santa Ana 3000.

LESS THAN 250 ARRESTS MADE IN NOVEMBER

Less than 250 persons were arrested in Santa Ana during the month of November, compared with 317 in October, according to the monthly police report, released today by Frank Lutz, desk sergeant.

Of this number 157 were arrested for overtime parking and on other traffic charges.

Of those brought into the city court on minor charges, 16 were charged with being drunk. In October 22 "drunks" appeared in court. Four persons were arrested in November for reckless driving and 23 were arrested as vagrants. November and December always show a large number of arrests for vagrancy, officers said, and the November number is not unusual. In October there were only nine arrests on this charge.

Nineteen persons were arrested last month for speeding, compared with 14 in October.

During November 15 automobiles were reported stolen from Santa Ana streets and officers recovered 13 cars during the month. Seventeen bicycles were reported stolen in November and eight have been recovered. In October 20 bicycles were stolen and 15 recovered.

BAR DISCUSSES POSSIBILITY OF COURT CHANGES

Approximately 35 members of the Orange County Bar association met at a dinner at St. Ann's Inn last night, at which time possible changes in superior court procedure were discussed. The meeting was called by Leonard Evans, of Anaheim, president, at the suggestion of Superior Judge James L. Allen, who will be presiding Judge in 1929, succeeding Superior Judge H. G. Ames.

The association voted in favor of shifting the date for hearing law and motion, probate matters and criminal arraignments from Monday to Friday.

Superior Judge E. J. Marks reported on the recent state bar convention in Pasadena and stated that it is expected changes in the rules of the state judicial council regarding court procedure may be made before January 1.

Certain phases of judicial council rules, which went into effect here August 1, have been found inapplicable to Orange county conditions and authorization has just been received by Presiding Judge Ames to set cases for more than 15 days ahead. Another means of avoiding difficulty was seen in the probability that criminal matters, law and motion hearings and probate business which formerly could be heard only by the presiding judge, may be transferred to other departments if those courts are not trying cases.

B. Z. McKinney, Santa Ana attorney, expressed to judges of the three superior court departments the appreciation of attorneys for their efforts to make court procedure as convenient as possible.

CIVIC BODY HEARS REPORT ON LIBRARY

PLACENTIA, Dec. 5.—Members of the Placentia Chamber of Commerce met at 6:30 o'clock Tuesday evening for a turkey dinner of the usual noon dinner.

Mrs. W. W. Blackmer was a guest at the dinner and spoke to the members on keeping the local library open all day. Mrs. Blackmer has interviewed members of the library board on the subject but no official action has been taken.

It is Mrs. Blackmer's opinion that the increased circulation of books would justify the additional expense. H. H. Hale expressed it as his opinion that the library was of no use to the public while closed, and that if public opinion demanded, it should be opened in the morning.

Winthrop Bowen considered that a library was of value in proportion to the number of books it contained and not the number of hours it was open.

A motion was made by Ralph McFadden that a committee be appointed to meet with the library board to confer in regard to the matter, and E. M. Everett, Louis Jacobsen and Ralph McFadden were appointed.

Major M. B. Wellington Gives Address Before Woman's Club

Major M. B. Wellington, Santa Ana attorney, talked on "Law, Business and Insurance" yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the Santa Ana Woman's club which took place at the Church of the Messiah.

Major Wellington discussed will and insurance policies in interesting and up-to-date manner, pointing out in connection with the importance of both. He was introduced by Mrs. R. Ruth Tiffany, chairman of the program committee.

The roll call which followed the talk included a great deal of entertaining discussion of the subject.

Mrs. William Whitehead who represented the Santa Ana Woman's club at the state convention of federated clubs which was held recently at Del Mar, gave her report of the affair. She told of the many delightful parties planned for the delegates, the business meetings, and other phases of the convention in her most charming manner.

One new member, Mrs. F. E. Hampton, was welcomed into the club.

Hostesses at yesterday's meeting included Mrs. Marian Brett, Mrs. R. Ruth Tiffany, Mrs. F. J. Adams, and Mrs. J. J. Van Wyk.

ANN MEREDITH'S MIXING BOWL

A DINNER ALL FROM THE OVEN

When oven heat is to be used for any part of the meal, plans should be made to bake the dessert and perhaps something else for another meal—possibly a loaf cake.

Economy does not lie in buying the inexpensive cut of meat and then cooking it in solitary state in the oven while other foods are cooked on top of the stove.

For an oven-baked dessert to accompany the German Stew why not have—

MINCE-MEAT BETTY

For six people use 1-1/2 cups of mince-meat, 4 diced apples and 1-1/2 cups toasted rolled crumbs. Mix the mince-meat and diced apples and proceed to build the Betty mince-meat. Add half a cup of lard alternate layers of crumbs and boiling water and bake slowly for 1 hour.

TODAY'S RECIPE

German Stew

- 1-1/2 pounds beef shoulder
- 1 bunch small carrots
- 12 small white onions
- 2 tablespoons bacon fat
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 2 tablespoons flour
- Salt and pepper
- 1 quart boiling water

Select a piece of beef that has little bone in it, have it cut in small pieces, wash and wipe dry. Heat the fat in a skillet, drop in the beef, rolled in flour, and let it brown nicely, keeping it stirred to prevent burning.

Use small carrots, peeled and cut in halves lengthwise; the onions should be the small white ones used for creaming whole. Put both vegetables in a baking dish or covered casserole. The next thing to do is—

Turn up the flame under the browned meat, season it nicely and add the boiling water; stir until the gravy thickens slightly, then pour over the vegetables, cover tightly and bake for 2 hours in a moderately hot oven, reducing the heat after baking is well under way.

If you wish more subtle flavoring this will give it. A clove of finely minced garlic, a bay leaf, a little pinch of powdered sage, the same of powdered cloves and nutmeg. These all go in when the oven baking begins, and they raise the ordinary oven stew from the commonplace very decidedly.

This recipe will serve four or five adults not too generously, but with a rich dessert the portions will be ample. The calorie total is 1900, largely proteins (meat-building units). Onions and carrots are low in calorie value, high in mineral elements, and valuable space-fillers.

The Spirit of Christmas spurs one on to indulge in entertaining! If YOU would like to give a party and have it a huge success you can do it by eliminating the element of formality and this is done by—

A CAFETERIA PARTY: A stamped self-addressed envelope sent in this week will bring you a menu, recipes and directions for serving. The menu is equally suited to the needs of Church and Lodge parties.

TOMORROW we will make Chocolate-Nut Cream Cookies from the bottle of cream that some one left out of the ice box to turn sour.

ANN MEREDITH.

Luncheon at St. Ann's First of Holiday Events

One of the most delightful of the early holiday affairs was the bridge luncheon with which Mrs. S. W. Nau, Mrs. A. F. Zaiser, and Mrs. C. P. Boyer entertained yesterday at St. Ann's Inn.

The old colonial atmosphere of the Inn which lends itself so well to Christmas entertaining added a great deal to the charm of yesterday's luncheon. The three long tables, each of which was presided over by a hostess, were centered with tiny Christmas trees, reindeer playing in glittering snow, countless miniatures of Santa Claus, and tall, tufted, tapers in Christmas, reds and greens.

Following the serving of a delicious, old fashioned Christmas menu under the direction of R. L. Blisby, St. Ann's genial host, the hundreds of guests adjourned to the lobby where bridge was enjoyed. Here many baskets of December flowers were used as decorations. A cheery note was added by the fire blazing on the hearth.

Bridge prizes for the three highest scores consisted of lovely silver, crystal, and linen, and were presented to Mrs. W. H. Haddon, Mrs. James Metzger, and Mrs. Leonard Jones of Riverside. Pretty consolation gifts were awarded Miss Ida Segerstrom, Mrs. T. P. Bruns, and Mrs. John Jacobs Jr.

Mrs. George Guenther and Miss Louise Tubbs assisted the hostesses in receiving guests and later in taking bridge scores.

Stephen Vincent Benet And Latest Book Reviewed

The life of one of America's outstanding poets, Stephen Vincent Benet, and his latest book, "John Brown's Body," were discussed yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the Modern Poetry section of the Santa Ana Ebell society which took place at the home of Mrs. Robert Northcross, 1318 Spurgeon street, when Mrs. Northcross and Mrs. Terry Stephenson were hostesses.

The life of the poet, whose latest book has already entered the best sellers class, was of particular interest to members of the section as he spent his boyhood days in California as his father, who was an army officer, was stationed at San Francisco for several years. The delightful story of his life was told by Mrs. Fred Rowland.

"John Brown's Body" which is the story of the Civil War, starting with the revolt of John Brown and his hanging, was reviewed by Mrs. E. M. Blake who found it, she stated, one of the most interesting things she has read. The poem is of great length and is divided into eight books.

Mrs. Blake chose outstanding passages of the book which she read to illustrate her version of the story which she gave in a sympathetic manner. She mentioned his characterization of President Lincoln as being especially human.

Following the review, refreshments were served by the hostesses.

The next meeting of the section will be held January 8 at the home of Mrs. Richards, 946 North Ross street, when Mrs. E. M. Nealley will review "The Buck in the Snow" by Edna St. Vincent Millay.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

Christian Endeavor

As the hands of the clock pointed to 6:30 o'clock last Friday night, Christian Endeavors of the First Evangelical church filed into the Sunday school room of the church to find their places at a beautifully decorated banquet table.

The table which was decorated by the Misses Ruth Garmsey and Velma Wits was striking with its orange and yellow decorations. In the center of the table was a large basket which had been carved from a pumpkin, and was filled to overflowing with luscious fruits. At either end of the table were tall orange candles.

The Endeavors enjoyed a turkey dinner which was prepared by Mrs. William C. Hofer and her daughters, Grace and Evelyn. After the dinner, the Endeavors who had been members before the first of September initiated those who have joined since that time. One of the interesting games of the evening was the "Dress Parade" in which the boys pinned paper dresses onto the girls. Prizes were awarded the boys for their efforts, first prize being a necktie, and low prize being a package of paper dolls.

This group of young people conducts some interesting Sunday evening meetings to which visitors are always welcome. At present members are working on the play, "Just Suppose," which they will present Sunday evening, December 16 at 7 o'clock.

Women Students' Dance Is Cancelled

Because of the enforced closing of schools and the already crowded program of academic work and club meetings for the ten days preceding Christmas vacation, the Associated Women Students' dance has been cancelled. It was announced yesterday by Mrs. Robert Northcross, dean of women of the junior college.

The dance was to have been an event of December 14 at the local college. Only women students were to attend.

CHURCH CLUBS WOMEN SOCIETY THE HOME WEDDINGS FASHIONS HOUSEHOLD FRATERNAL

YOUR CHILDREN

by Olive Roberts Barton
©1928 by NEA Service, Inc.

Pre-school children won't be getting their outdoor exercise these days unless their parents have been foresighted enough to provide for the winter emergency and worked out a plan for it.

"I'm too tired to go out with Ralph by the time I've finished the work," said one young mother. "He'll just have to stay in the house. I can take him to the park and sit and watch him while he runs around in the summertime, but now I just can't manage it."

Ralph's mother lives in an apartment. She is a very good housekeeper. Her windows gleam, her floors shine, the curtains are fresh, the whole place is as homey and attractive as an energetic young woman with good taste can make it. Also she is a very good cook.

Ralph is well-fed and to all appearances well and happy. The little boy across the street comes in sometimes to play, and sometimes Ralph goes over there.

If his mother goes to shop, she usually takes him along and sometimes they go to a matinee or a movie.

Everything goes along beautifully as a general thing. It was when Ralph picked up a germ somewhere and developed a lung congestion that threatened pneumonia that the doctor asked if he got out in the fresh air every day.

You know his mother's answer.

Ralph's aunt lives in a suburb in a small house with a yard. There are a front porch and a back porch. The street is a quiet one, away from dangerous traffic, and when Ralph's cousin Leonard is not in the yard or playing on the porch, he is reasonably safe pushing his scooter up and down the sidewalk.

Leonard is out about half the day, buttoned up snugly in his little blue overcoat. When it is very damp, he wears overshoes.

Leonard had the same kind of cold Ralph had, too. Germs are germs, and as his mother says, she can't keep him in a glass case.

But Leonard got well about twice as fast as Ralph. Ralph was pale and wan all the rest of the winter. Leonard was soon as rosy as ever and out on his scooter again.

If these cousins of the same age were to run a race, Leonard would beat. If they were to lift a weight, Leonard would have it all over Ralph.

Leonard is happier than Ralph. He gets enthusiastic about the least little thing. Ralph is more or less lethargic.

When Leonard is forty, very likely he will be planning ahead for bigger things in his business, while Ralph, we may predict safely, will be depending on pills to keep him fit and refer to the days when "he used to be able to do things."

Who says fresh air doesn't tell its story? If his mother realized what a big story it really does tell she would arrange when moving time comes, that Ralph would not have to spend another winter as a shut-in.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNICK

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

My, what a fix the Tinymites were in. Of all the funny sights!

They floundered in the snow banks, trying to get upon their feet.

'Twas rather hard to stand, you see, 'cause snow's as slippery as can be.

All of a sudden Clowdy cried, "Well, say, this is no treat!"

Then Scouty jumped and cried, "I fear that we have lost our little deer. When we were tumbled down our boat, he quickly ran away. Right now it seems that we are stuck amid the snow. What awful luck! We have no way to travel, but it isn't safe to stay."

The others quite agreed with him. Although they all felt in good trim, they knew they couldn't travel far, just walking in the snow. Soon Coppy said, "We all are bold, but 'twill be hard to fight this cold. There is no place to hide if winter winds begin to blow."

Just then a voice nearby cried out, "Say, what's this trouble all about?" The Tinymites turned around and saw a friendly Eskimo. He walked up to the little bunch, and smiled and said I have a hunch that I can help you on your way, wherever you wish to go.

"We're bound for toyland," Carpy cried, "but now we have no way to ride." The Eskimo sat down to think, and then he shook his head, "Well, well, that's really very sad," said he, "but don't you lads feel bad. You all can keep on going, 'cause I'll let you take a sled."

He turned and whistled very loud. A big surprise came for the crowd. Some little dogs rushed wildly up. "They had a sled in tow. The Eskimo then loudly roared, "Come on there, Tinies, hop aboard." The Tinies did and, once again, they were prepared to go.

(The Tinymites reach Santa's Toyland in the next story.)

PADDED HANGERS

Fine velvet frocks and other perishable fabrics should never hang on thin wooden hangers. It takes little time to pad out the shoulders. Stuff sleeves with tissue paper, also, and your frocks will stay looking newly pressed.

HEAD PROTECTORS

If children sleep in a draughty room, tie a strip of ticking, crotonne or other firmly woven fabric across the head of their iron bed and tuck it under the mattress. This keeps the wind from blowing down their necks and protects their heads.

EAT THE THEATRE

ORANA PLAYERS

The Orana Players, playing in the Temple Theater in Santa Ana, present "His Extra Wife" as the attraction for this week. This play, according to critics, is reputed as being a well rounded, snappy, fast-moving farce comedy that pleases in every way.

The management desires to state that contrary to rumors, the above actors are remaining with the company, and the entire company will continue playing in the Temple theater.

YOST BROADWAY

A new touch of realism is seen in "The Hit of the Show," the FBO attraction now being screened at the Yost Broadway theater, in which William Francis Dugan, noted writer, appears in the part of a playwright.

Born in a small but ambitious little town in Kansas, young William was quite content to remain there, but his parents saw in this tiny toddler a professional genius, so they moved to Washington, D. C., where William attended Friends Select School, bound for an extensive education.

Subsequently he enrolled in the Spring Hill College in Mobile, Alabama, becoming well known there for his literary works. He next entered the University of North Carolina, where he started writing plays, moving to Chicago to see his first one produced. He is remembered as author of "The Tantrum" and "The Virgin Man," his latest stage successes.

Persuaded by theatrical producers to forsake his pen for a time, he was signed in the Hayward Stock Company as leading man. He then went to New York where he both acted and produced plays, coming to California as a writer for FBO Studios. He so typifies the character of a playwright that Director Ralph Ince persuaded him to don make-up for the role in "The Hit of the Show," featuring Joe E. Brown and Gertrude Olmstead.

"SINGING FOOL" IS AL JOLSON'S BEST

"The Singing Fool," Al Jolson's second talking picture, is in the difficult position of following a phenomenal Jolson success, "The Jazz Singer." That it does not suffer by comparison is proof of the tremendous heart appeal of this story of the loves and losses, successes and failures, of a singing walter of Broadway.

Jolson proves himself supremely master of the new and difficult art of talking pictures. His songs, and there are some glorious new ones, not to forget some of the old ones for which audiences always clamor, are rendered with a beauty and naturalness which is little short of miraculous. And his speaking voice rings true. In short, no whit of the elusive quality which has made Al Jolson the world's most famous entertainer, is missing. "The Singing Fool" provides him with a story of universal appeal.

WEST END

A picture that depicts a phase of life as practised by the younger generation, finely directed and portrayed by a great cast of screen favorites "The Tragedy of Youth," a Tiffany-Stahl production was seen here for the first time yesterday at the West End theater.

In bold, dramatic strokes the picture unfolded an absorbing story of the lives of two of the modern youngsters, a boy and a girl, who while enjoying the hectic life of the city's cabarets fall in love with each other (or think they do) and within a short time are married. They sail away on their honeymoon and on board ship the bride is introduced to a handsome and fascinating friend of the groom. There is an immediate attraction between the girl and newcomer which later develops into a very strong friendship.

EVENING SALUTATION

He that will not reason is a bigot; he that cannot reason is a fool, and he that dares not reason is a slave.

—Sir W. Drummond.

COUNTY PLANNING A NECESSARY FUNCTION

At the beginning of the movement throughout the country for the development of master plans for cities and other political subdivisions there appeared to be much idealism connected with such plans which could not be translated into reality. Since that time, however, it has been found that systematic planning is a necessary function of local government.

It is now known that the proper planning of transportation arteries, recreation facilities, agricultural and residential sections, airports, industrial areas, and the protection and utilization of natural resources is not only making possible the fulfillment of the aspirations of those most visionary-minded, but is sound in theory and practice for all who desire useful ends in public administration and economy in public expenditure.

In addition to the great purpose of planning—that of outlining for future guidance the most economical and harmonious development and making all public works dovetail into the general plan—there is the vital fact of the continuity of the master plan. For in our thoroughly democratic form of government in the sense that political preference is vacillating, and where often the most conscientious and devoted public official must in a comparatively short time give way to another, there is every good reason for, and no reason that we can see against, having a master plan that LIVES ON regardless of the changes in the personnel of public administration.

Under our present supervisory system it is not a question that the officials have the inclination, the ability and the time to work out and start into action a co-ordinated plan for the entire county; but what assurance is there that their successors in office will pick up the plan where they leave off and put it into effect as the years go by? THERE IS NO SUCH ASSURANCE. There is, on the contrary, the human impulse, laudable so far as it goes, for each new official to incorporate his own particular ideas into county administration, and especially in the case of such an office as that of supervisor where the law gives wide opportunity for the exercise of individual discretion.

A county planning commission such as has been proposed, composed of citizens selected for their knowledge of county affairs, for their vision of county unity, and for their interest in future generations, would not only be a body through which the progressive sentiment of the people along development lines could be ascertained and put into action, but would be an invaluable aid to the board of supervisors and other county officials in their work. The commission itself would be appointed by the board of supervisors, and the board would have the final say on the adoption or rejection of the master plan. The chairman of the board of supervisors is made by law a member of the commission. The county engineer, county surveyor and district attorney are made ex-officio members of the commission. It is clear, therefore, that county planning is not a departure from the accepted rule of constituted authority, nor a separation of the functions of public administration from popular appeal. It is the opposite from these things, in that through the public hearings provided for in the planning act, it gives greater opportunity for all the people to be heard and to become more familiar with public affairs.

Public planning is not an experiment. The sentiment which is now being crystallized in favor of the movement speaks well for the future of Orange county.

Channing Pollock, playwright says theater audiences these days "check their brains with their hats." And, of course, Mr. Pollock, some just check their hats.

KELLOGG PACT BEFORE SENATE

The Kellogg Peace Pact is now before the Senate of the United States for its approval or disapproval. The President has transmitted this instrument to the Senate with the expression that "it might be favorably acted upon by the Senate before the expiration of his term of office on March 4th next."

Senator Borah, the chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee is strongly in favor of it. No opposition to it has yet developed. We believe that the sentiment of the country is all but unanimous in its favor. It will be strange, however, if some Senator with extreme views and a natural desire to be different from the rest, does not attempt to start something in opposition to it by bringing out some technical objection to some sentence in it. We cannot believe, however, that this will prevent its passage by the required two-thirds majority, and we hope that it will be passed unanimously.

It will be one more of the many steps that have been taken toward the day when the nations will settle differences in an intelligent and civilized manner. The methods of brutality and savagery have held over in the adjustment of differences between nations for many centuries after this method has been discarded for the settlement of differences by the groups and individuals within the state.

The failure to establish orderly process based on international good-will and law has been the most incongruous condition that has been preserved from the very childhood of the race. In the beginning brawn ruled. As the mind develops and reaches a higher state of civilization, the mind and the conscience become regnant. These are now affecting our international relations.

The prompt and unanimous endorsement of this pact by the Senate of the United States not only will aid in the general movement toward peaceful settlement of difficulties, but it will be an element of hope and inspiration to the weaker nations of the world that their power among the nations will hereafter not be determined by their armies, or their navies, or their ability to kill and destroy in a wholesale manner, but by the degree of intellectual powers they develop and the righteousness of their cause.

COMING TOGETHER RELIGIOUSLY

One of the marked features of our Thanksgiving season is the manner in which various religious organizations are getting together for Thanksgiving religious service. In one city the Roman Catholic bishop gave the address at a union service of all the churches, Protestant and Catholic. In another place, the service was held in a Jewish synagogue, and clergymen of all denominations had a part in the service.

This is as it should be. The shame of it is that attention has to be called to the novelty of such a gathering. In the very nature of things, it is yet impracticable for all Christians to worship together because of temperamental and theological differences. The line of demarcation is still too sharp. But there is a growing softening of the points of division between the various ecclesiastical organizations, and we have reason to hope that at last they will disappear. As an illustration of that, it is interesting to note that the catalogue of the new School of Religion associated with Vanderbilt University in Nashville, Tenn., emphasizes the fact that religion and ethics, rather than theology, are to be the thing of first importance, and that the scientific spirit is to govern the method of finding out what is truth in religion, and what Christianity really is.

This is very different from what used to be the case. In the earlier years each denomination had its own theological seminary, and the tenets and the practices of that denomination were emphasized and supported. The interdenominational seminary is of quite recent origin. More and more Christians are adopting the motto of one of the great church leaders, "In essentials, unity; in non-essentials, liberty; in all things, charity." Only so will religion come back to its own, and exercise a power such as it should have over the lives and the consciences of men. The church has a great amount of power now in our social and political life. But such power as it now has in these realms has grown up out of the co-operative movements which mark the religious organizations of the country.

Henry Ford insists that the airplane never will replace the automobile. At least not so far as pedestrians are concerned.

RASKOB TO HOLD OVER

John J. Raskob, chairman of the National Democratic Committee, it is claimed, will remain in his position for the next four years. He says he believes the Democrats have a real chance for success in 1932.

They may have, but certainly they have learned one lesson; that is, that Tammany Hall and alcohol are not the gold dust twins that will do the work for them.

China Pays Tributes to United States

Pasadena Star-News
That China looks to the United States for friendly advice and aid is indicated by many overtures since the Nationalist regime came into being. Official expressions of cordiality have been accompanied by the employment of American experts in a number of important capacities. Following the election of November 6, confidence was expressed by Chinese authorities in the successful candidate for President of the American Republic and in the party of which he was the nominee.

An implied compliment for the United States may be found in the selection of the same colors that are utilized in the Stars and Stripes for the new Chinese flag. The arrangement is radically different; but the blending of the Red, White and Blue is conspicuous. The Chinese flag as described has a field of red, with a blue square containing a white sun.

Orderly progress seems to be under way in China with the organizing of the new government. Little news of importance has been forthcoming from Asia during recent weeks; but it may be that the people of the United States have been so busy with their own political affairs that they have had no time to consider what is taking place on the other side of the globe. Attention, however, can not be concentrated for all time on Washington, nor on the tour of the President-elect, nor on the wreckage of stormy seas. China is too large and too important as a nation to be ignored. It will be the scene of historic events during the next few years.

Postal Clerks' Christmas

Oakland Tribune
Even should the dawn of Christmas day find the postoffice filled with holiday packages, the postal clerks are to have the day at home. Announcement from Postmaster General New is that when work is finished on Christmas eve, everything is to wait until the day after Christmas, no matter who has to miss receiving his gift on time.

The public will agree with the Postmaster General that this is a sensible ruling. Postal clerks and carriers, indeed the whole service, is given a tremendous job during that period which the rest of us dedicate to happiness. They deserve this bit of consideration; have the right to their Christmas at home.

Mail your packages early. If there should come a delay, make up for it by using the air mail. Another suggestion made by the Postmaster General is that Christmas cards be as near as possible to regulation size. The very small cards, for instance, cannot go through the cancelling machines and must be marked by hand, an exceedingly arduous task in the midst of the holiday rush. Moreover, when the tiny envelopes are cancelled it often happens that the address is obliterated.

The Dead Past

The San Diego Union
Thomas W. Miller, former alien property custodian, convicted and sent to prison for defrauding the government in a matter involving a $7,000,000 claim, has been recommended for parole by the federal parole board. He has served about half the sentence imposed. The fact is interesting, not as involving the question as to whether or not the government should insist upon Mr. Miller's remaining behind the bars, but as illustrating the official attitude toward officials convicted of unfaithfulness. Something of their previous aura of authority appears to remain with such officials, and they seem to be entitled to a consideration which lesser malefactors do not command.

It is said that democracies are ungrateful; but they also appear to manifest a parallel willingness to forgive and forget.

First Come, First Served!

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

ABD-EL-KRIM

When Abd-El-Krim was running loose
On Africa's burning strand
He found it fun to play the deuce
With any foe at hand.
He learned as many men have done,
(Including Gungah Din)
That rebels have a lot of fun
As long as they can win.

But when his foes became too strong
And put his troops to flight
Krim saw that it was base and wrong
To murder, rob and fight.
And, being of a nimble wit,
As history affirms,
He said that he would gladly quit
If he could make the terms.

He chose a sunny tropic isle
Where life is one sweet song
And nature always wears a smile—
And took his wives along.
And there his old age will be spent
Beneath exotic trees
In calm convivial content
And quietude and ease.

Though vallant hector fought and died
While Paris turned and flew
And though each hero must decide
What course he'd best pursue
To give Sheikh Abd-El-Krim his dues
He has both life and fame.
And though he did not win or lose
He sure did play the game!

Dr. Frank Crane's Friendly Talk

By Dr. Frank Crane

THE RIGHT KIND OF FAITH

Man is not composed of water-tight compartments. Any one of his qualities is affected by the rest of them.

Some people regard faith as a separate thing that you can put on or take off. On the contrary, the quality of your faith is determined by the rest of your being.

First there must be RIGHT THINKING. It will not do to expect faith to make up for slovenly thought. Our first obligation is to know the truth and we must use all our efforts to ascertain it. It is not sufficient to believe; we must believe the truth.

You might sincerely pray to God and honestly believe that falling from a sixteen-story window would not hurt you. It would kill you just the same. To believe a lie is fatal.

The second essential is to LOVE. Love subtly qualifies all our mental processes. Hate is blind. Coldness is blind. Only love can see the truth, and seeing can understand it. We must not only be clear thinkers, but strong lovers.

The third essential is RIGHT ACTION. You might call thinking the straight line, love the plane, but action is the cube. To think right and to love much is of no avail unless put into action. In fact, right action determines the quality of our thought and affection. Many people are satisfied if their thinking is accurate and their emotions are right. But thought does not remain clear nor are emotions dependable unless they are translated immediately into action.

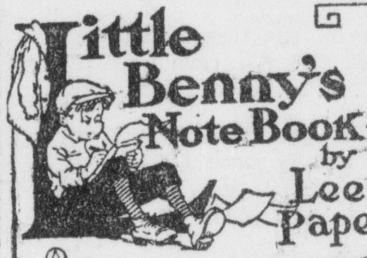

In fact, the true creed and the true passion are secreted from the true deed. William James used to say that any emotion that was not acted upon immediately by the will does us more harm than good.

The last essential is TRUST. As Right Thinking might be said to be a straight line, Love a plane and the Act a cube, so when all of them are suffused by Trust we have the sphere. This figure, the curved line, is the hall mark of the Creator.

Trust, added to our other qualifications, makes us complete. No matter what else a man may be, without trust he is not a well-rounded man. Instead of being opposed to the other virtues it blends with them and completes them.

To have the right kind of faith, therefore, we must be the right kind of men.

Ma was sitting at her private desk writing a memorandum in her memorandum book and the point of her pencil broke off ma saying, O drat there goes my pencil, Willyum lend me your pen nife.

That reminds me, lets have that pencil a minit, Ill put a point on it that would win first prize at any county fair, pop sed. And he took a little shiny majigger out of his pocket and stuck the end of ma's pencil in it and started to turn it around, saying, This is a little German invention, you cant beat the Germans wen it comes to contraptions like this, it cost me a dollar and a half but the fellow assured me Id save more than that on pencils the first year, theres absolutely no waist.

And he took the pencil out and looked at it, and it was about a inch shorter and theres wasent any point on it yet on account of one having properly been on and broken off already, ma saying, I gess the way your suppose to save a dollar and a half with that thing is to put away a penny each time it falls to werk, and you'll be a rich man in no time, hee hee.

Give me time, will you, there may be a little nack to it, pop sed. And he tried it agen, making ma's pencil still shorter but no pointier, ma saying, Willyum Potts look at my good pencil, look at my good floor, now Willyum I dont want that thing in the house I dont care if it was made by Germinis or not.

This is a good little arrangement and just because it needs a little practice thats no reason for condemning the whole German nation, pop sed. And he tried 3 more times and there wasent hardly anything left of the pencil and the living room carpit looked farse, and I sed, Hay pop, give it to me, will you pop, Id like to have it.

All rite, you have more time to master the nack of it than I have, pop sed, and I sed, G, I can swap that for something good, and pop sed, O, in other words that is nothing good heh? Well its good enuff for me, he sed. And he stuck it back in his pocket but Ive saw him sharpen pencils twice since then and he used his pen nife both times, proving its properly not even good enuff for him, proving maybe I mite still get it.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By Glenn Frank

Few of us are fortunate enough to live a life free from trouble. And it is but human to worry about our troubles.

It is true that most of the troubles we worry about never happen, but there are troubles that are very real, and many of us have no better technique than worry with which to face them.

An important part of the art of effective living lies in knowing how to meet trouble—imagined and real.

The professional optimists, who sometimes seem to think they can destroy facts by denying them, usually tell us to look even our worst troubles squarely in the face and dare them to down us.

The Pollyannas who tell us this are usually pretty superficial souls who have no very definite idea about a technique for meeting trouble, and yet their advice is by no means mere uplift sentimentality; it represents pretty sound psychological engineering.

It's good advice whether the trouble be imagined or real.

If the trouble be imagined we cannot do better than to muster our courage and look it out of countenance, bringing to our aid every device of suggestion we can appropriate.

If the trouble be real, the sooner we face it, know the worst and know that we know the worst, the better able we are to meet its challenge.

The reason for this is simple.

As long as we do not know definitely the fullest and ugliest details of a trouble into which we have fallen, we are harassed by uncertainty and its offspring worry, and our minds are in no condition to wrestle rationally and realistically with the trouble.

But the women we know the worst and know that we know the worst, our minds tend to grow calm and we can settle down to the job of removing the cause of the trouble or, if it prove inevitable, we can set about adjusting ourselves to it.

I have seen able and responsible men almost go to pieces worrying about their health. Secretly fearing that something was radically wrong with them, they spent futile and fear-ridden months worrying, actually afraid to submit to a thorough medical examination. But finally when they have screwed up their courage to look their trouble in the face in a thorough examination one of two things happened—they have found their trouble to be imaginary or, finding their trouble to be real and serious, they have found a new calm in the release from uncertainty that the truth brought to them. And in that calm they have either wisely removed the cause of their disease or bravely adjusted themselves to the inevitable.

And so we must meet and master all of our troubles.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

GOOD TOOLS

Children have to learn to find their way through the world by means of the tools they master.

Those tools should be the very best that can be found whether they take the form of books or hammers. There are many cheap tools in the market. There are books that cost very little and are worth less because they yield nothing of power to the child using them. They will not stand service. They will offer no help in time of need.

Now a good book usually costs more than a poor one but as a poor one is worse than none a good one is beyond price. Better to buy one book whose paper is clear, whose print is bold, whose pictures say something, whose content inspires, than a truckload of rubbish that passes itself off for books.

The tools that are sold for children are for the greater part rubbish. Hammers whose handles split at the first blow, whose heads crack or fall off are worse than useless. Saws that will not cut, that stick and snap off at the first drive are a delusion and a snare. Chisels that snap off at the shank, refuse to take an edge, give children an altogether wrong idea about chisels.

If a child gets the wrong feel for a tool he cannot use it as he ought. He can get no pleasure out of it. He can do no real work with it. He tosses it aside and announces that he can't do woodwork, that he could never learn to carve, that he would have liked to learn to build things but he could not master the tools. Many a child has been turned away from a strong interest by the use of a poor tool.

Language books have the same difficulty as other tools. Most of them begin with a couple of lessons about What is your name, My name is John, and then a block of grammar. The child says, "Aw, I can't learn that stuff." If the book had been better, that story had been longer.

When you buy things for children's use get good ones. Buy steel tools with the name of a standard make branded on them. When you buy books look at them. Study the paper and the type and the content. Look at the author's name. Get a good book. Shun the bargains in books and tools and toys.

It is better to buy a wheelbarrow that stands up, a wagon that has lasting qualities, a sled that is tough and flexible, a tool that lasts as long as it lives, and buy just one, than to buy many and throw them into the discard the next week.

You can't expect a child to respect workmanship when his tools go to pieces under his hand. You can't expect him to learn to care for things when they are not worth the care bestowed upon them. There are good tools on the market. Ignore the cheaper ones and get the good ones. They will pay for themselves in results over and over.

There is something about a good tool that lifts the soul of the worker to a plane where his best work is possible. Any price is cheap to attain that end.
